CARRANZA REFUSES USE OF RAILWAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

El Paso, March 28.—General Carranza has refused to grant the request of the United States government that American troops sent into Mexico in pursuit of Francisco Villa be permitted to use the Mexico Northwestern railway for the transportation of supplies.

The first chief has also notified General Gaviro, military commander at Juarez, that he must not permit the passage over this line of any shipment of food, ammunition or equipment for the American troops. Carranza has further barred the United States authorities and General Pershing from using the Mexican telegraph lines, to and from Juarez.

This development shows that the American troops must depend upon their own lines of communication for food and ammunition. As they proceed farther into Mexico in pursuit of Villa it is becoming increasingly difficult for them to get these supplies.

When Carranza's action became known today it caused a wave of pessimism to sweep along the border. This was further intensified by an attack last night by Mexican outlaws upon the ranch of C. E. Kelly, ex-mayor of El Paso, near Fabens, a border town east of El Paso.

The bandits crossed the border under cover of darkness, raided the ranch and beat the superintendent. This man, though badly injured, made his way to the T. M. Wingo ranch and informed a detachment of Troop K, Eighth Cavalry, of the outrage. Sergeant Burns immediately led a "flying squadron" of ten cavalrymen in pursuit of the bandits.

The Mexican raiders had disappeared by the time the troops reached the Kelly ranch at midnight. It was believed they had recrossed the Rio Grande, but to be doubly sure of this fact two other cavalry detachments were hastened to the vicinity to scour the border.

The bandits who crossed the border at Fabens are unquestionably Villistas. It is in this district that supplies have been smuggled into Mexico to help "Pancho."

While the hunt for the Fabens bandits was in progress it became known here that representatives of the border states would press at Washington for congressional action to impress General Carranza with the fact that his government must co-operate actively with the Americans in their pursuit of Villa. Friends of Senator A. B. Fall of New Mexico, who is now on border duty, watching developments, said that he would lead this movement and that he had already communicated to Senator Gallinger at Washington the result of his observations.

Senator Gallinger is the Republican leader who has repeatedly criticized the administration policy in Mexico. Senator Fall is said to have urged Gallinger in his dispatches to advocate in the senate the immediate seizure of both the Mexican Northwestern and the Mexican National Railways, the two lines running into Mexico from Juarez.

The New Mexico senator is also understood to have told Gallinger that the use of the railways is essential for the success of General Pershing's hunt for Villa, failure of which would lower the dignity of the United States and render the border subject to more attacks.

Dispatches from Douglas, Ariz., state that all Americans employed in the Carranza army in Sonora have been ordered on orders from General Carranza. No reason for this action is known.

C. E. Kelly, owner of the ranch which was raided by Mexicans last night, sent word here today that some of the bandits were overtaken by American cavalrymen and that a running fight ensued in which more than 100 shots were fired. At Fort Bliss it was said, however, that no word of any fight had been received.

Fire in Toronto.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Toronto, Ont., March 28.—The hardware store of Brown & Shattuck, adjoining the building of the Evening Telegram, suffered a loss of $10,000 last evening and two firemen were injured. J. Babayan, a dealer in Oriental rugs, who occupied the second floor of the burned building, was the heaviest loser. His loss was estimated at $20,000, caused by smoke and water. The Telegram escaped serious material damage, but at a late hour the salvage corps of the fire brigade were busy pumping the water from the basement.

Gambling House Robbed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, March 28.—Six masked men held up thirty men in an alleged gambling house in West 113th street early today and secured money and jewelry valued at $5,500. Displaying revolvers, three robbers guarded the victims while a fourth secured the loot. Two confederates waited outside in an automobile in which the hold-up men escaped.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

William M. Henderson, a former tobacco salesman, was arrested in Newburgh on Sunday on a charge of abandonment. It is alleged that he left his wife and six-year old child in Troy. He was caught by the Newburgh police as he was leaving the city after visiting a young woman.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTES

The institute tour planned by the executive committee of the County Sunday School Association, and announced the first of March, has been arranged for the first two weeks of April. The first meeting will be held at the Reformed Church in Port Ewen on the afternoon and evening of Monday, April 3. From that date on there will be a meeting each afternoon and evening except Sunday, until April 15, somewhere in the county.

Arrangements have been made with the State Sunday School Association to have a state specialist at each meeting. This state worker will give an address each afternoon and evening and will also teach in the school of methods each afternoon.

The county association plans to complete the district organization in each of the twelve districts of the county at these institutes by electing a full set of district officers, also a superintendent for each of the departments of organized Sunday school work. These departments are elementary, secondary, adult, home, training, missions, temperance, evangelism and community betterment.

This will be a great step in advance and will simplify the work and make it far more effective. To stimulate interest, arouse enthusiasm and encourage attendance the county association is offering to the school in each district that has the largest percentage of its workers present at both sessions a beautiful U. S. flag for use in its school. This banner will be awarded by calling the roll at the afternoon and evening sessions, when the schools reported will report the number of officers and teachers present. The percentage of the whole number of officers and teachers present will then be figured out and the banner awarded at the evening session to the school having the largest percentage.

As a whole, the county has made a gain of a little over five per cent during the last year in its efficiency standing. These institutes are expected to arouse enthusiasm so that before the first of May, when the records of the year must close, a much larger gain will be reported.

The program will be substantially the same at each place, though different items may be treated by different people as several of the county departmental superintendents are expected to help as well as two of the state specialists.

The principal items on the program are: Afternoon session—Discussion of the work of the district; address by a state worker, subject, "Trained Workers." The afternoon session will close with a two period school of methods dealing with topics related to the elementary, secondary, adult and home department work.

The evening session will commence with a business session at which the officers will be elected, followed by a roll call of schools to secure a report on the Sunday school standards, and will close with an address by a state worker on the "Community's Challenge to the Sunday School." The state workers are to be Miss Harris and Miss Berg.

The institutes are to be held in the following centers, which are accessible to practically all the schools in the county:

- April 3—Port Ewen Reformed Church.
- April 4—Y. M. C. A., Kingston.
- April 5—Highland Presbyterian Church.
- April 6—Gardiner Reformed Church.
- April 7—New Paltz Methodist Episcopal Church.
- April 8—High Falls Reformed Church.
- April 10—Woodstock Reformed Church.
- April 11—Saugerties Congregational Church.
- April 12—Napanoch Methodist Episcopal Church.
- April 13—Accord Methodist Episcopal Church.
- April 14—Shandaken Methodist Episcopal Church.
- April 15—Shokan Reformed Church.

Not Dr. George S. Warren.

George E. Warren, formerly of Kingston, not Dr. George S. Warren, his father, as stated in last night's Freeman, was injured in the automobile accident at Philadelphia Friday when an automobile in which several young men were riding crashed into an auto truck, seriously injuring several occupants. A letter from young Warren to his father states that he is only slightly injured although in a hospital. The same letter verifies last night's reports of the accident and says that several of the men are seriously injured. Friends of young Warren have given him the name, "Doc," and probably used it in giving accounts of the accident, thereby causing the error above corrected.

Fatal Fire in Cleveland.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Cleveland, O., March 28.—Two unidentified persons, a man and a woman, were killed early today in a fire in the Foster Apartments. Bessie Reimer, waitress, is in the hospital badly burned, and is being questioned as to her story that a masked man entered her room through an open window, bound her to her bed and then set fire to the furniture in an adjoining room. Fifty tenants were asleep in the apartment when the fire broke out and at least a dozen are more or less seriously injured. The police have arrested several suspects.

NOTHING CAN STOP THE BIG SHOW

KINGSTON'S AUTOMOBILE SHOW WILL OPEN WITH A RUSH.

SUSSEX VICTIM LIKELY TO DIE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, March 28.—Although it has been established that no American lives were lost in the explosion which damaged the channel liner Sussex, a telegram from Dover states that George H. Crocker of Fitchburg, Mass., who was badly wounded, is in such serious condition that it is feared he will die. After a brief period of consciousness yesterday Mr. Crocker has lapsed back into a stupor.

Mrs. C. A. Fennell, who was reported as missing in early dispatches on Monday, is in Paris.

W. H. Page, the United States ambassador, is forwarding to Washington affidavits taken from various American passengers who were on the Sussex. Some of these deponents quote officers of the ship as saying she was torpedoed without warning.

Of the seven depositions made by Americans at the U. S. embassy there are only two which admit the possibility that the Sussex may have struck a floating mine.

A Reuter despatch states that Prince Bahram of Persia was among the victims on the ship, but there has been no official confirmation.

The first detailed story of the escape of the family of Prof. J. Mark Baldwin is contained in the following telegram from Paris:

"At the moment of the explosion Prof. and Mrs. Baldwin were in the stern of the boat. Their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Baldwin, was in the fore part of the ship. While panic was gathering on the decks after the blast Prof. and Mrs. Baldwin dashed forward wildly seeking their daughter. Being unable to locate her the parents decided she had been taken into a life boat. Prof. Baldwin and his wife decided to leave the steamer themselves so they jumped into a life boat that was being lowered and to their intense joy found Miss Baldwin, who had been badly injured about the head. Later the Baldwins returned to the Sussex and were transferred to a rescue ship which took them to Wimereux, near Boulogne, where Elizabeth was rushed to a hospital."

The American naval commission sent by Ambassador Sharp from Paris to Boulogne to inspect the damaged hull of the Sussex, are expected to report within the next twenty-four hours. Every possible facility has been placed at their command by the French naval and military authorities. It was feared that their freedom might be restricted because Boulogne is in the war zone.

Joshua D. Armistead, who was among the Americans wounded on the Sussex, is recovering, but Dr. Wilder G. Fenfield, of Hudson, Wis., who was badly hurt about the head, has improved but slightly.

FORMER PUGILIST SHOT.

On Same Street Corner on Which he Shot a Man.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Buffalo, March 28.—Patrick Styne, known as Paddy Lavin, a former pugilist, was shot down at the corner of Pearl and Niagara streets early this morning. The bullet struck Styne in the groin and physicians say it is not necessarily fatal unless complications develop. The wounded man was removed to a hospital, where he refused to make a statement, saying, "I'll attend to this myself when I get out."

About six months ago Lavin shot William Kennedy, the shooting taking place at the same street corner. Kennedy recovered and Lavin was acquitted on the ground of self defense. It is thought the present shooting is an aftermath of the Kennedy-Lavin feud, which had its origin in a gambler's quarrel.

Police Pursued Chickens.

Quick work by the police in rounding up two Rhode Island red chickens is praised by Mrs. Esther Weber of Snyder avenue, who mourned the loss of two of her flock and complained to the chief. Twenty-four hours later the chickens were located at a neighbor's home and returned.

STREET CLEANING WORK TO BEGIN

By Telegram to The Freeman.

This morning Superintendent Van Keuren of the board of public works announced that he expected to put the street force to work today to clean up the city streets from the winter's accumulation of dirt and ice. All over town gutters are filled with snow and ice which householders have neglected to clean out. Where the gutters have not been cleaned by the householders and the work is left to the street department the cost will be assessed to the property owners.

Sleighing on the city streets is now a closed incident as the warm rays of Old Sol has wasted the snow to such an extent that drivers have found that wagons run much easier than sleighs. The fact that over eleven feet of snow has fallen this winter has caused a large accumulation of dirt and ice to gather on the streets which will be cleaned up by the street force.

Gutters and sewer inlets about town are still covered with snow and ice. Where property owners have failed to clean up and that fact has caused a number of cellars to become flooded with water from the wasting snow.

DAISY GOES TO JAIL.

Second Case Growing Out of the Raid on Krom House.

After a lively trial this morning Margaret Krom, sometimes known as Daisy was found guilty of being a disorderly person and was sentenced to three months in the county jail by Recorder Lang. It is expected that Daisy will receive a visit from the stork shortly after the expiration of her jail sentence. She was represented by Frank W. Brooks, while Chris J. Flanagan appeared in behalf of the corporation counsel and pressed the charge against her.

The entire testimony given at the trial was that of a number of young men who had visited her at her home, No. 129 Broadway, and what transpired while they were there. At the close of the People's case her attorney moved to dismiss the charge, which was denied by the court. Daisy offered no evidence in her own behalf.

As usual in cases of this kind the court room was jammed with an eager crowd of listeners who had gathered to hear the testimony. The Krom girl was arrested the other day together with her mother, Mrs. Louise Krom, and Mrs. Irma Jones, who boarded with the Kroms. The evidence against the three women was worked up by the police.

Mrs. Jones was tried last week and found guilty on the same charge and sent to the Bedford Reformatory for women.

At the close of Daisy's trial her mother, Mrs. Krom, was placed on trial.

Quits Pulpit For Plow.

The Rev. Jonathan Greenleaf, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Glen Cove, L. I., has announced that at the coming meeting of the Nassau Presbytery to be held at Glen Cove on April 11, he will ask to have his pastoral relations with the Glen Cove church dissolved. He intends to retire from active ministerial work and it is understood will devote his interests to a farm which he owns in Jersey. Mr. Greenleaf is completing thirty years service in the ministry, having been ordained at Hobart, N. Y., on September 22, 1886.

Police Pursued Chickens.

Quick work by the police in rounding up two Rhode Island red chickens is praised by Mrs. Esther Weber of Snyder avenue, who mourned the loss of two of her flock and complained to the chief. Twenty-four hours later the chickens were located at a neighbor's home and returned.

WIFE DEAD HUSBAND IS HELD

By Telegram to The Freeman.

A charge of murder may be lodged against Henry Leach, aged 66 years, of No. 76 Smith street, Newburgh, who was ordered held by Coroner DuBois, pending an investigation of the circumstances attending the death of his wife, Elizabeth Leach, aged 62 years. An autopsy performed Sunday evening by Newburgh physicians revealed a fracture of the skull behind each ear, a crushed breast and three fractured ribs, one of which had penetrated the lung. Leach denies that he is responsible for his wife's death, and says that she fell out of bed. They were alone in the house when death occurred. Leach has gained some reputation as a sifter and was well-known in Newburgh. He and his wife had been married about thirty years. The police are inclined to the opinion that he woman's death was the culmination of a drunken brawl which began Saturday night and was continued Sunday ending with the death of Mrs. Leach.

Slain Woman Not Wife.

Harry Newkirk is believed to have killed Maud Blazington near Summitville on Friday night because, after she had lived with him for a year as a common law wife, she refused to marry him and joined another man. The body of the woman with the head nearly severed from the neck, was found near the O. & W. station at Summitville and an hour later the body of Newkirk was found alongside the railroad track. He had been killed by a train. It is thought that he had killed the woman and then committed suicide by stepping in front of the train.

Trouble in Glasco.

For threatening to choke John Seitz of Glasco, until his tongue hung out that way, a charge was laid against him by the corporation counsel and pressed the charge against him. The entire testimony given at the trial was that of a number of young men who had visited her at her home, No. 129 Broadway, and what transpired while they were there. At the close of the People's case her attorney moved to dismiss the charge, which was denied by the court. Daisy offered no evidence in her own behalf.

Ice Harvesting Record Broken.

All ice harvesting records on the Hudson River were broken on Saturday by the harvesting of 20 inch ice at the Greene Redell ice house at Coxsack, where the work of filling the house was completed. The crop at Coxsack has been the largest in years and most of it has been stored during the past three weeks, but at other points on the river especially at Malden, Catskill, Germantown and places between there and Coxsack the crop has been very light.

Father Paul at St. Joseph's.

The Rev. Father Paul James Francis of St. Paul's Priory, Graymoor, Garrison, N. Y., will give the third subject of his series of discourses in St. Joseph's church this evening at 8 o'clock. His introductory conference will be "Did Christ Found a Visible Church?" The subject of the evening sermon will be "The Soul's Ship of Safety." Christian men and women of all denominations are invited.

Received 21 New Members.

There were guests present from Kingston, Cornwall, Poughkeepsie, Middletown, Port Jervis, Highland Falls and Peekskill. A luncheon was served the members and guests at the close of the initiation.

BIG THINGS EXPECTED OF THE BIG SHOW

With an enthusiasm equalled only by their optimism, Kingston automobile dealers are booming the Automobile Show which gives promise of bringing to the city Thursday, Friday and Saturday the greatest crowd seen here since the Hudson-Fulton celebration. The weather is the only thing needful to make the exhibition the biggest success ever.

The reduced railroad rates combined with bargains offered by the merchants will make Governor's day, which opens the show, the banner occasion of the big three days' event. A spirit of get-together among the autoists, business men and auto dealers is in itself one of the bright indications of success. Demands for space have been such that, weather permitting, the committee plans to utilize the vacant lot west of the building for the auto truck exhibit.

The exhibitors whose ranks include all of the live automobile agents in the city, will be referred to in detail in the special Automobile Show edition of The Freeman on Wednesday.

Attendance is the one big item which is expected to contribute largely to the success of the affair and Governor Whitman's presence in the city for the first time since his election to that office bids fair to be a great drawing card. At the Poughkeepsie show the total attendance was 5,000, while Newburgh, which started on the day of the mid-March blizzard, had but 2,000 paid admissions during its three days. Chairman Everett Fowler says that there is every indication of a great turnout to greet the governor and the opening of the show, the first event of the kind ever attempted in Kingston.

CITY WATER HAD INDIGESTION

Couldn't Take Up and Dispose of the Usual Dose of Chlorine Without Leaving Taste and Odor—Remedy, Let the Taps Run.

Changes in the organic content of the city water and not any excess of chloride of lime caused the bad taste which created such a stir a week ago today, according to James M. Caird of Troy, chemist for the water department. Mr. Caird states that the condition is not new in the operation of purification plants and Superintendent Harrison added this morning that there is no guarantee against a recurrence. In the event of a similar taste being noted, the superintendent urges consumers to open the taps and let the water flow off.

Chemist Caird's letter is self-explanatory and reads as follows:

Troy, N. Y., March 23rd, 1916.
Mr. C. J. Wilber,
Water Department,
Kingston, N. Y.
Dear Sir:

Yours of the 22nd., duly received and I note that you had some trouble due to the taste in the water.

This sudden change, is not a new thing in the operation of water purification plants, and is not due to any free chlorine, but to a change in the organic content of the water and the formation of an organic chloride, which is the cause of the taste.

Enclosed find clipping from a Pittsburgh, Pa., paper which has just been received, thought that the same might be of interest in your case.

Note that you have reduced the amount of hypo—and no doubt the trouble will pass within a day or so.

Yours very truly,
JAMES M. CAIRD.

How a similar outbreak of disagreeably flavored water impressed Pittsburgh consumers is told in the following clipping from a Pittsburgh newspaper, published March 17th last:

Water with a taste variously described as resembling that of the smell of ancient eggs, asafetida, carbolic acid and other unsavory liquids or substances is the complaint the patrons of the South Pittsburgh Water Co. have been making against the drinking fluid being served them by that company. The changed condition of the water was first noticed, by some of the people, served by the company named, a week ago. Since that time the number has increased and extend to all parts of the company's territory of 250 square miles and affecting approximately 100,000 people.

Supt. E. L. Keene, of the water company, declares the nasty taste in the water is due to "over-aerification" caused by an unanticipated change in the original condition of the water previous to its arrival at the filtration plant of the water company, in Carriok borough. The company's chemist, Supt. Keene said, discovered the taste in the water at noon Tuesday, but too late to prevent the water being served their patrons. He says there is nothing injurious to health in the condition. Hypochloride of lime is used, he explained, in sterilizing the water and less of it was used Tuesday than is the custom to put in K.

Supt. Keene declared the larger part of the disagreeable condition had already passed out of their pipes. But, Supt. Keene says, those living in the Chartiers Valley will be the last to get relief. Residents in most all towns on the south side of the Monongahela and Ohio rivers from Monaca to Bridgeville, were affected by the water's condition.

CARRANZA REFUSES USE OF RAILWAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, March 28.—General Carranza has refused to grant the request of the United States government that American troops sent into Mexico in pursuit of Francisco Villa be permitted to use the Mexico Northwestern railway for the transportation of supplies.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTES

The institute tour planned by the executive committee of the County Sunday School Association, and announced the first of March, has been arranged for the first two weeks of April. The first meeting will be held at the Reformed Church in Port Ewen on the afternoon and evening of Monday, April 3. From that date on there will be a meeting each afternoon and evening, except Sunday, until April 15, somewhere in the county.

Arrangements have been made with the State Sunday School Association to have a state specialist at each meeting. This state worker will give an address each afternoon and evening and will also teach in the school of methods each afternoon.

The county association plans to complete the district organization in each of the twelve districts of the county at these institutes by electing a full set of district officers, also a superintendent for each of the departments of organized Sunday school work. These departments are elementary, secondary, adult, home training, missions, temperance, evangelism and community betterment.

This will be a great step in advance and will simplify the work and make it far more effective. To stimulate interest, arouse enthusiasm and encourage attendance the county association is offering to the school in each district that has the largest percentage of its workers present at both sessions a beautiful U. S. flag for use in its school. This banner will be awarded by calling the roll at the afternoon and evening sessions, when the number of officers and teachers present. The percentage of the whole number of officers and teachers present will then be figured out and the banner awarded at the evening session to the school having the largest percentage.

As a whole, the county has made a gain of a little over five per cent during the last year in its efficiency standing. These institutes are expected to arouse enthusiasm so that before the first of May, when the records of the year must close, a much larger gain will be reported.

The program will be substantially the same at each place, though different items may be treated by different people as several of the county departmental superintendents are expected to help as well as two of the state specialists.

The principal items on the program are: afternoon session—discussion of the work of the district; address by a state worker, subject, "Trained Workers." The afternoon session will close with a two period school of methods dealing with topics related to the elementary, secondary, adult and home department work.

The evening session will commence with a business session at which the officers will be elected, followed by a roll call of schools to secure a report on the Sunday school standards, and will close with an address by a state worker on the "Community's Challenge to the Sunday School." The state workers are to be Miss Harris and Miss Berg.

The institutes are to be held in the following centers, which are accessible to practically all the schools in the county:

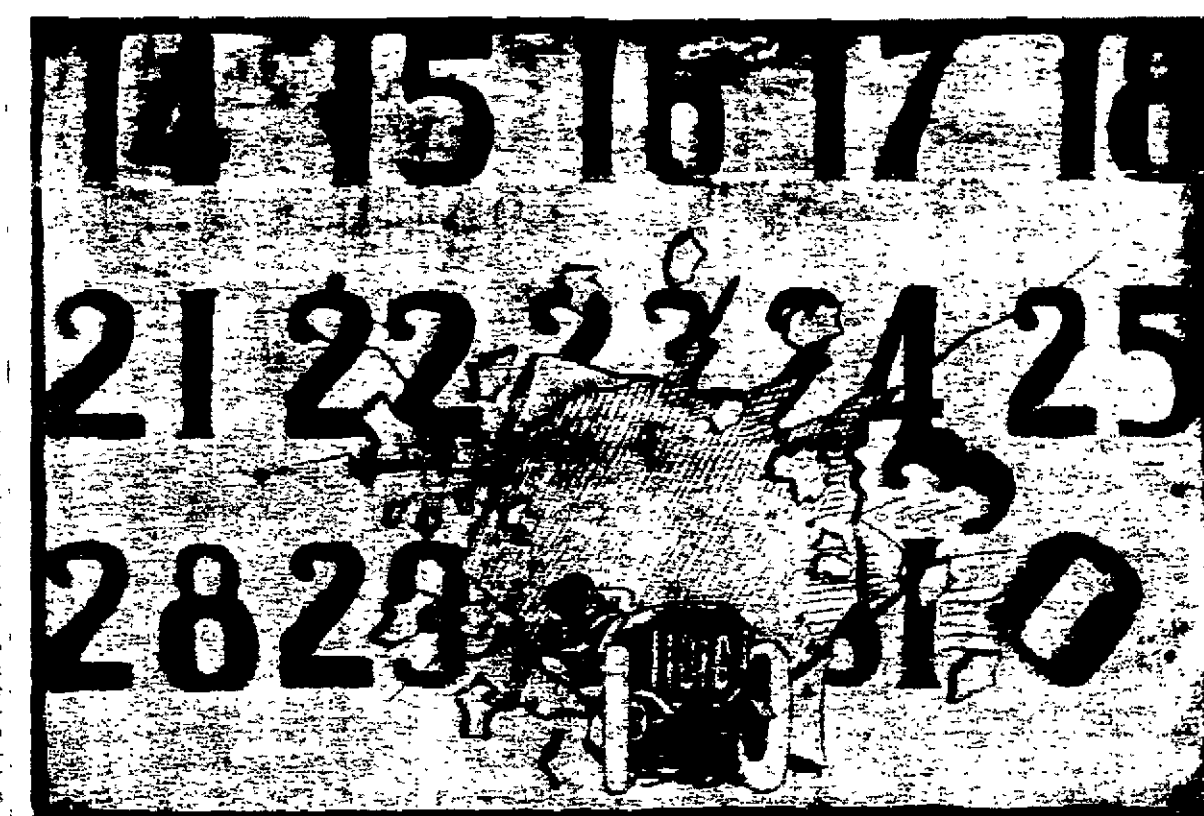

April 3—Port Ewen Reformed Church.
April 4—Y. M. C. A., Kingston.
April 5—Highland Presbyterian Church.
April 6—Gardiner Reformed Church.
April 7—New Paltz Methodist Episcopal Church.
April 8—High Falls Reformed Church.

April 10—Woodstock Reformed Church.
April 11—Saugerties Congregational Church.
April 12—Napanoch Methodist Episcopal Church.
April 13—Accord Methodist Episcopal Church.
April 14—Shandaken Methodist Episcopal Church.
April 15—Shokan Reformed Church.

Not Dr. George S. Warren.
George E. Warren, formerly of Kingston, not Dr. George S. Warren, his father, as stated in last night's Freeman, was injured in the automobile accident at Philadelphia Friday when an automobile in which several young men were riding crashed into an auto truck, seriously injuring several occupants. A letter from young Warren to his father states that he is only slightly injured although in a hospital. The same letter verifies last night's reports of the accident and says that several of the men are seriously injured. Friends of young Warren have given him the name, "Doc," and probably used it in giving accounts of the accident, thereby causing the error above corrected.

Fatal Fire in Cleveland.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Cleveland, O., March 28.—Two unidentified persons, a man and a woman, were killed early today in a fire in the Foster Apartments. Berrie Reimer, waitress, is in the hospital badly burned, and is being questioned as to her story that a masked man entered her room through an open window, bound her to her bed and then set fire to the furniture in an adjoining room. Fifty tenants were asleep in the apartment when the fire broke out and at least a dozen are more or less seriously injured. The police have arrested several suspects.

NOTHING CAN STOP THE BIG SHOW

KINGSTON'S AUTOMOBILE SHOW WILL OPEN WITH A RUSH.

SUSSEX VICTIM LIKELY TO DIE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 28.—Although it has been established that no American lives were lost in the explosion which damaged the channel liner Sussex, a telegram from Dover states that George H. Crocker of Fitchburg, Mass., who was badly wounded, is in such serious condition that it is feared he will die. After a brief period of consciousness yesterday Mr. Crocker has lapsed back into a stupor.

Mrs. C. A. Fennell, who was reported as missing in early dispatches on Monday, is in Paris.

W. H. Page, the United States ambassador, is forwarding to Washington affidavits taken from various American passengers who were on the Sussex. Some of these depositions quote officers of the ship as saying that the vessel was hit by a mine.

Of the seven depositions made by Americans at the U. S. embassy there are only two which admit the possibility that the Sussex may have struck a floating mine.

A Reuter dispatch states that Prince Bahram of Persia was among the victims on the ship, but there has been no official confirmation.

The first detailed story of the escape of the family of Prof. J. Mark Baldwin is contained in the following telegram from Paris:

"At the moment of the explosion Prof. and Mrs. Baldwin were in the stern of the boat. Their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Baldwin, was in the fore part of the ship. While panic was gathering on the decks after the blast Prof. and Mrs. Baldwin dashed forward wildly seeking their daughter. Being unable to locate her the parents decided she had been taken into a life boat. Prof. Baldwin and his wife decided to leave the steamer themselves so they jumped into a life boat that was being lowered and to their intense joy found Miss Baldwin, who had been badly injured about the head. Later the Baldwins returned to the Sussex and were transferred to a rescue ship which took them to Wimereux, near Boulogne, where Elizabeth was rushed to a hospital."

The American naval commission sent by Ambassador Sharp from Paris to Boulogne to inspect the damaged hull of the Sussex, are expected to report within the next twenty-four hours. Every possible facility has been placed at their command by the French naval and military authorities. It was feared that their freedom might be restricted because Boulogne is in the war zone.

Among the Americans wounded on the Sussex, is recovering, but Dr. Wilder G. Penfield, of Hudson, Wis., who was badly hurt about the head, has improved but slightly.

FORMER PUGILIST SHOT.

On Same Street Corner on Which he Shot a Man.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Buffalo, March 28.—Patrick Symes, known as Paddy Lavin, a former pugilist, was shot down at the corner of Pearl and Niagara streets early this morning. The bullet struck Symes in the groin and physicians say it is not necessarily fatal unless complications develop. The wounded man was removed to a hospital, where he refused to make a statement, saying, "I'll attend to this myself when I get out."

About six months ago Lavin shot William Kennedy, the shooting taking place at the same street corner. Kennedy recovered and Lavin was acquitted on the ground of self-defense. It is thought the present shooting is an aftermath of the Kennedy-Lavin feud, which had its origin in a gambler's quarrel.

Boston Candy Kitchen.
Peter Sakis and Theodore Pados of 35 Hoffman street have filed a certificate with the county clerk stating that they are conducting business in this city under the name of the Boston Candy Kitchen.

STREET CLEANING WORK TO BEGIN

This morning Superintendent Van Keuren of the board of public works announced that he expected to put the street force to work today to clean up the city streets from the winter's accumulation of dirt and ice. All over town gutters are filled with snow and ice which householders have neglected to clean out. Where the gutters have not been cleaned by the householders and the work is left to the street department the cost will be assessed to the property owners.

Sleighborn on the city streets is now a closed incident as the warm rays of Old Sol has wasted the snow in such an extent that drivers have found that wagons run much easier than sleighs. The fact that over eleven feet of snow has fallen this winter has caused a large accumulation of dirt and ice to gather on the streets which will be cleaned up by the street force.

Gutters and sewer inlets about town are still covered with snow and ice. Property owners have failed to clean up and that fact has caused a number of cellars to become flooded with water from the wasting snow.

DAISY GOES TO JAIL.

Second Case Growing Out of the Raid on Krom House.

After a lively trial this morning Margaret Krom, sometimes known as Daisy, was found guilty of being a disorderly person and was sentenced to three months in the county jail by Recorder Lang. It is expected that Daisy will receive a visit from the stock shortly after the expiration of her jail sentence. She was represented at Frank V. Brooks, while Chris J. Flanagan appeared in behalf of the corporation counsel and pressed the charge against her.

The entire testimony given at the trial was that of a number of young men who had visited her at her home, No. 120 Broadway, and who testified while they were there at the close of the People's case her attorney moved to dismiss the charge, which was denied by the court. Daisy offered no evidence in her own behalf.

As usual in cases of this kind the court room was jammed with an eager crowd of listeners who had gathered to hear the testimony. The Krom girl was arrested the other day together with her mother, Mrs. Louise Krom, and Mrs. Irma Jones, who boarded with the Kroms. The evidence against the three women was worked up by the police.

Mrs. Jones was tried last week and found guilty on the same charge and sent to the Bedford Reformatory for women.

At the close of Daisy's trial her mother, Mrs. Krom, was placed on trial.

Quits Pulpit For Plow.

The Rev. Jonathan Greenleaf, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Glen Cove, L. I., has announced that at the coming meeting of the Nassau Presbytery to be held at Glen Cove on April 11, he will ask to have his pastoral relations with the Glen Cove church dissolved. He intends to return from active ministerial work and to a farm which he owns in Jersey.

Mr. Greenleaf is completing thirty years service in the ministry, having been ordained at Hootat, N. Y., on September 22, 1886.

Police Pursued Chickens.

Quick work of the police in rounding up two Rhode Island red chickens is praised by Mrs. Esther Weber of Snyder avenue, who mourned the loss of two of her flock and complained to the chief. Twenty-four hours later the chickens were located at a neighbor's home and returned.

WIFE DEAD HUSBAND IS HELD

A charge of murder may be lodged against Henry Leach, aged 66 years, of No. 70 Smith street, Newburgh, who was ordered held by Coroner DuBois, pending an investigation of the circumstances attending the death of his wife, Elizabeth Leach, aged 62 years. An autopsy performed Sunday evening by Newburgh physicians revealed a fracture of the skull behind each ear, a crushed breast and three fractured ribs, one of which had penetrated the lung. Leach denies that he is responsible for his wife's death, and says that she fell out of bed. They were alone in the house when death occurred. Leach has gained some reputation as a flier and was well known in Newburgh. He and his wife had been married about thirty years. The police are inclined to the opinion that his woman's death was the culmination of a drunken brawl which began Saturday night and was continued Sunday ending with the death of Mrs. Leach.

Slain Woman Not Wife.
Harry Newkirk is believed to have killed Maude Blazington near Summitville on Friday night, because after she had lived with him for a year as a common law wife, she refused to marry him and joined another man. The body of the woman with the head nearly severed from the body, was found near the O. & W. station at Summitville and an hour later the body of Newkirk was found alongside the railroad track. It is thought that he had killed the woman and then committed suicide by stepping in front of the train.

Trouble in Glasgow.
For threatening to choke John Seitz of Glasgow until his incarceration out of town, a description given, Leo Poli, an Italian resident of Glasgow, was held in bonds of $1,000 to keep the peace, by Justice Cridder of Saugerties Monday morning.

On Saturday Justice Cridder fined Peter Cicco, another Glasco Italian, $10 for punching Mr. Seitz. The fine was paid and Cicco discharged. Officer Howard Richardson made the arrests in each case and George F. Kaufman appeared as Mr. Seitz's attorney.—Saugerties Post.

Ice Harvesting Record Broken.

All ice harvesting records on the Hudson river were broken on Saturday by the harvesting of 26 inch ice at the Greene-Bedell ice house at Coxsack, where the work of filling the house was completed. The crop at Coxsack has been the largest in years and most of it has been stored during the past three weeks, but at other points on the river, especially at Maiden, Catskill, Germantown and places between there and Coxsack the crop has been very light.

Father Paul at St. Joseph's.

BIG THINGS EXPECTED CITY WATER HAD OF THE BIG SHOW INDIGESTION

With an enthusiasm equalled only by their optimism, Kingston automobile dealers are booming the Automobile Show which gives promise of bringing to the city Thursday, Friday and Saturday the greatest crowd seen here since the Hudson-Fulton celebration. The weather is the only thing needful to make the exhibition the biggest success ever.

The reduced railroad rates combined with bargains offered by the merchants will make Governor's Day, which opens the show, the banner occasion of the big three days' event. A spirit of get-together among the motorists, business men and auto dealers is in itself one of the bright indications of success. Demands for space have been such that, weather permitting, the committee plans to utilize the vacant lot west of the building for the auto truck exhibit.

The exhibitors whose ranks include all of the city's automobile agents in the city will be referred to in detail in the special Automobile show edition of The Freeman on Wednesday.

Attendance is the one big item which is expected to contribute largely to the success of the affair and Governor Whitman's presence in the city for the first time since his election to that office bids fair to be a great drawing card. At the Poughkeepsie show the total attendance was 3,000, while Newburgh, which started on the day of the mid-March blizzard, had but 2,000 paid admissions during its three days. Chairman Everett Fowler says that there is every indication of a great turnout to greet the governor and the opening of the show, the first event of the kind ever attempted in Kingston.

A charge of murder may be lodged against Henry Leach, aged 66 years, of No. 70 Smith street, Newburgh, who was ordered held by Coroner DuBois, pending an investigation of the circumstances attending the death of his wife, Elizabeth Leach, aged 62 years. An autopsy performed Sunday evening by Newburgh physicians revealed a fracture of the skull behind each ear, a crushed breast and three fractured ribs, one of which had penetrated the lung. ## Couldn't Take Up and Dispose of the Usual Dose of Chlorine Without Leaving Taste and Odor—Remedy, Let the Taps Run.

Changes in the organic content of the city water and not any excess of chlorine of lime caused the bad taste which created such a stir a week ago today, according to James M. Caird of Troy, chemist for the water department. Mr. Caird states that the condition is not new in the operation of purification plants and Superintendent Harrison added this morning that there is no guarantee against a recurrence. In the event of a similar taste being noted, the superintendent urges consumers to open the taps and let the water flow off.

Chemist Caird's letter is self-explanatory and reads as follows:

Troy, N. Y., March 28th, 1916.
Mr. C. J. Wilber,
Water Department,
Kingston, N. Y.

Yours of the 22nd, duly received and I note that you had some trouble due to the taste in the water.

This sudden change, is not a new thing in the operation of water purification plants, and is not due to any free chlorine, but to a change in the organic content of the water and the formation of an organic chloride, which is the cause of the taste.

Enclosed clipping from a Pittsburgh, Pa., paper which has just been received, thought that the same might be of interest in your case.

Note that you have reduced the amount of hypo—and no doubt the trouble will pass within a day or so.

Yours very truly,
JAMES M. CAIRD.

How a similar outbreak of diarrhoea, flavoured water, impressed Pittsburgh consumers is told in the following clipping from a Pittsburgh newspaper, published March 17th last:

Water with a taste variously described as resembling that of the smell of ancient eggs, asafetida, carbolic acid and other unsavory liquids or substances is the complaint the patrons of the South Pittsburgh Water Co. have been making against the drinking fluid being served them by that company. The change coincided with the first noticed by some of the people served by the company named, a week ago. Since that time the number has increased and extend to all parts of the company's territory of 250 square miles and affecting approximately 100,000 people.

Supt. E. L. Keene, of the water company, declares the nasty taste in the water is due to "over-stilization" caused by an unanticipated change in the original condition of the water previous to its arrival at the filtration plant of the water company, in Carleburgh. The company's chemist, Supt. Keene said, discovered the taste in the water at noon Tuesday, but too late to prevent the water being served their patrons. He says there is nothing injurious to health in the condition. Hypochloride of lime is used, he explained, in sterilizing the water and less of it was used Tuesday than is the custom to put in it.

Supt. Keene declared the larger part of the disagreeable condition had already passed out of their pipes. But, Supt. Keene says, those living in the Carleburgh Valley will be the last to get relief. Residents in new towns on the south side of the Monongahela and Ohio rivers from Monaca to Bridgeville, were affected by the water's condition.

SUSSEX DEATH LIST SHRINKING

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, March 28.—Revised of the lists of passengers, crew and survivors of the channel liner Sussex indicate that the death list may not be over fifty, according to a statement issued today by the London, Brighton and South Coast Railway, owners of the ship.

Official lists compiled in London and Paris on Monday placed the number of missing at 87, of whom some have later turned up at Boulogne, France, and other coast towns. Being in the war zone when the granary communication was cut off and under the control of the military authorities their rescue could not be reported at once.

Fig Betty.—Take two cupfuls of cake crumbs, melt a tablespoonful of butter and stir in the crumbs until well mixed. Place a layer of the crumbs in a baking dish, add a thin layer of apple and figs, finish with the buttered crumbs. Add enough lemon juice and water to keep the mixture moist enough to bake. Cook until the apple is tender.

Pineapple Toast.—Toast in a little hot butter some rounds of sponge cake or any plain cup cake which is firm enough to hold in shape. Lay on a slice of the pineapple making the circle of cake fit the circle of pineapple, cover with another circle of cake, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with whipped cream or a sauce made from the juice of the canned pineapple. Thicken a cupful of the juice with two tablespoonfuls of butter, bubbling hot, add two of flour and when well mixed pour on the juice. Serve all hot.

Stone Ridge, March 28.—A sleighload of ladies from Rondout and Kingston visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Freer on Friday last. Dinner was awaiting them and they all did justice to the bountiful repast and all well pleased, started on their ride home about 4 o'clock p. m. Those present were Mrs. Oliver Terwilliger and sister, Miss Alice Winchell, Mrs. Robert Freer, Mrs. Floyd Deitz and little daughter Lela, all of Marlborough. The load contained of sixteen ladies were Mrs. Ira Bush, Mrs. Wright Maines, Mrs. Alex Maines, Mrs. Martha Robinson, Mrs. Frank Struble, Mrs. John Dolson, Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. Charles Slater, Mrs. Jason Bush, Mrs. John Rickley, Mrs. Duncan Hatsh, Mrs. Charles Noffke, Mrs. DeWitt, Mrs. Quick, Mrs. Maurice Maxwell and Mrs. Rufus Freer.

A very pleasant surprise party was tendered Mrs. Michael Bence, Saturday evening at her home 53 First avenue, by a host of friends. The rooms were handsomely decorated with roses and palms. Games were played, excellent music was furnished for dancing, singing was enjoyed by all, and at midnight the guests were ushered into the dining room where dainty refreshments were served. The guests departed for their homes in the wee small hours of the morning, voting the hostess a royal entertainer. Among those present were the Misses Minnie Hoey, Frances Hoey, May Johnston, Helen Johnston, Mabel Southard, Marie Keating, Mary McCordle, Kathryn Hoffman, Mrs. Michael Bence, William McManus, Clarence Brophy, Frank Schipp, Arthur Fox, Frank Zoller, Jack Hilton, John Crosby, James Conroy and Michael Bence.

Mrs. George Smith of Bloomington was tendered a surprise party on Monday evening, March 27, in honor of her birthday. While Mrs. Smith was spending the evening with some friends, the party quietly gathered at the house. Mrs. Smith was then called home and was much surprised to find her friends had taken possession of the house in her absence. The evening was very pleasantly spent in playing games and dancing. Miss Edythe Mick rendered some very pleasing selections on the phonograph, which also furnished the music for dancing. Mrs. Smith was the recipient of a number of post cards and gifts. Two handsome birthday cakes, lighted with candles, graced the buffet. With two great puns Mrs. Smith left them out. At midnight dainty refreshments were served. In the small hours of the morning they all departed for their homes, wishing Mrs. Smith many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. Augustus Weidemann, Sr., was very pleasantly surprised by her children and a number of her lady friends in honor of her birthday on Sunday, March 26, at her home on North street. A grand repast was served by the hostess, to her guests, the decorations being green and white, the table with its huge birthday cake being lighted by 62 candles, indicating the number of the hostess's birthdays. The favors were tiny rose decorated bon bon baskets. Among those having the pleasure to attend were Mrs. E. P. Wilhelm, Mrs. H. A. Bengen, Mrs. Fred Elmer, Mrs. Louis Seltmann, Mrs. John Krueger, Mrs. Fred Weidemann, Mrs. John Wendland, Mrs. Henry Topp, Mrs. Fred Schlot, Mrs. Herman Luedtke, Sr., Mrs. Jennie Schubert, Miss Amanda Luedtke, Miss Jennie Lindhout, Miss Lottie Weidemann, Miss Dorothy Bengen. Stone Ridge, March 28.—Mrs. Oliver Terwilliger gave a very pleasant surprise party in honor of her husband, Oliver Terwilliger and brother Bert, as you see they happen to be born twins. A hot chicken supper was served and the beautiful cakes and ice cream were delicious. The birthday cake was a very pretty sight to see, thirty-six candles of all colors all burning and a pair of little sugar boys sitting in the center. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Pine, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Freer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terwilliger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Deitz and family, all of Marlborough, Miss Lela Lyons of New Paltz, Miss Alice Winchell and brother Henry, of Rifton and Paul Davis of Rifton.

John Basten is quite ill at this writing. James Brink is in a very sad condition, as he has lost the use of his legs. A large crowd attended the social held at Jesse DuBois's last Monday evening. The proceeds were for building a new shed for the Marlborough Church as the old shed has fallen down with the heavy snows we have had.

A Correction.

Mrs. Marks of No. 52 First avenue desires to contradict the statement made in The Freeman last Friday that her daughter, Miss Ivy Marks, was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party on the evening of March 17, as Miss Marks did not even attend the party in question.

Lyke-Dunnemann.

Miss Elisabeth Wanda Dunnemann
and LeRoy Lyke, both of this city, were married on Sunday morning by the Rev. F. P. Wilhelm, pastor of the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church on Livingston street. They were attended by Miss Jennie Buddenhagen and Waldorf Dunnemann, a brother of the bride. Mr. Lyke is caretaker of an estate near Wemple, N. Y., and the young couple will reside on the estate. Mr. and Mrs.
Lyke have a host of friends who wish them a happy married life.

Chambers-Van Etten.

The handsome residence of Mr.
and Mrs. Amos Van Etten on West Chestnut street, was the scene, this afternoon, at four o'clock, of a wedding of much social interest, though informal in character, when Miss Katherine Van Etten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Etten, became the bride of Donald Irving Chambers, only son of the late Dr. Jacob and Mrs. Chambers of this city. The bride wore a beautiful wedding robe of white satin. There were no attendants. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. M. Coerr, rector of Holy Cross Church, and was followed by a reception. Both the ceremony and reception were attended by only the most intimate friends of the bride and groom.

Illustrated Lecture Saturday Night.

An illustrated lecture of unusual interest will be given in the chapel of the First Dutch Church on Saturday evening of his week under the patronage of the Monday Club, when Frederick C. Sutor of New York will show the beautiful pictures of the famous "Harriman Interstate Park" at Bear Mountain, the pictures being provided by the Palsades Interstate Commission, of which Mr. Sutor is a member. He will also give an interesting and entertaining account of this splendid piece of interstate conservation work, which should be of special interest to all persons living in the Hudson valley. There will be no admission charged for the lecture, and the public is very cordially invited to be present.

Soisakanishade Club.

An interesting meeting of the Soisakanishade Club was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs.
William Cranston on Clinton avenue. The roll call consisted of a discussion of "Birds of Spring," which brought out many noteworthy facts about the habits and songs of our early feathered visitors. The first paper of the afternoon, by Miss Sarah Cloonan, had for its subject
"Booth Tarkington." In an interesting and entertaining manner she told of the life of this noted author, his works dealing with American life, and more particularly of life in the west. Among the more noted works by this writer, Miss Cloonan mentioned "The Gentleman from Indiana," "Monsieur Beaucaire," "The Conquest of Canaan," and "The Penrod Stories." The second paper on "Nova Scotia," given by Mrs.
Charles N. Turner, was unusual in character, in that it consisted of a letter from a friend, a visitor in the Land of Evangeline. The letter gave a graphic account of the geography of the country and mentioned the climate as temperate but changeable. The chief towns were described, together with the educational buildings, and the principle occupation of the inhabitants. In more romantic vein the letter mentioned the scenes whereon were enacted Longfellow's story of "Evangeline." Next Monday the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Vernon Hall, No.

264 Washington avenue.

Monday Club.

The Monday Club were the guests of Mrs. Kenyon at her home on Fair street, this week. Mrs. Kenyon had the paper for the day, her subject being, "Russian Social Life and Customs." A report from the "Town and County Committee," was given after the paper, Mrs. Higginson telling of the work of the State Charities Aid Association, through the county agent, Miss Bruyn, in the county. Mrs. Joseph M. Fowler told of the new bridge soon to be built, and Mrs. Brink reported on various city enterprises, the gathering of tent caterpillar egg masses, by school children, with prizes for the greatest amount gathered, the automobile show, etc. It was decided at this meeting, that the Monday Club would again be the hostesses of the general public on Saturday evening of this week. At that time, Frederick C.
Sutor of New York city, will give an illustrated lecture in the chapel of the First Dutch Church on "The Harriman Interstate Park," to which the people of Kingston are cordially invited without further invitation or notice, as no admission will be charged. The Monday Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Kenyon again next week.

Purvis-Spangenberg.

Saturday afternoon Miss Emma Spangenberg and Alderman James W. Purvis of No. 631 Abel street were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Lawrence Spangenberg, No. 46
Adams street, by the Rev. John J.
Bott, rector of the Church of the Holy Spirit. The bride was gown in a blue broadcloth traveling suit with hat to match. She was attended by Miss Minnie Foss as bridesmaid, who also was attired in blue broadcloth.
The best man was Fred Spangenberg,
a brother of the bride. As the wedding party entered the parlor the wedding march was played by Mrs.
J. Lawrence Spangenberg. Following the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served and Mr. and Mrs. Purvis left later on the West Shore train for a honeymoon trip which will be spent in the south. Upon their return they will reside in Wilbur. The home was beautifully and artistically decorated with palms and cut flowers for the occasion and the bride was the recipient of many gifts, including cut glass, linens and checks. The groom was elected alderman of the Thirteenth ward at the last election and both he and his bride have a host of friends who wish them a long and prosperous married life. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spangenberg, Mr. and Mrs.

son, Frederick and Harry Spangenberger, Mr. and Mrs. James McIntyre and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Purvis, the Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Bott,
Mrs. Walsh and daughter, and Mrs.
Rundle and daughter.

Spades Gets the Bid.

"They had an interesting game of suction at the Jinks home the other evening."
"How was that?"
"Why, Cholly Littlebrane was calling on Clara Jinks, and he wanted to make it one heart."
"Yes."
"But Clara stood out for two diamonds."
"Of course."
"And then Jinks got into the game with a handful of clubs."
"Including all the honors, I suppose."
"Whereupon Cholly passed—through the window—and made such a hole in the terrace they had to call it spades."
—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

HELPFULNESS.

Every man and woman ought to prize above almost every other quality the capacity for self help, and yet every man and woman will at some time or other be sorely in need of the help of others and at some time or other will find that he or she can in turn give help even to the strongest.

THIS WASP HATES SPIDERS.

He Kills and Buries Them and Lays an Egg in Each Grave.

Just to show that he's sanitary, also that he's looking out for the future generation, the South African wasp always buries his prey after he kills it.
He stabs a spider with his poisonous dart, digs a hole in the sand and buries the dead spider with an egg.

When the egg hatches the young wasp has a dead spider to nibble at until he gets big enough to hunt food for himself. Thus the wasp looks out for his children before they're hatched.
He's a member of the family which scientists have named the pompilids.

Spiders are his favorite victims. He will pursue the spiders which live on the ground and paralyze them with his poisonous sting. Even the spiders which build webs are not safe from his attack. He will fight his way through the web until he reaches the center, where he will grab the spider and hurry away to bury it.
The pompilids is so dreaded and feared that the spider has learned to distinguish him by the hum of his wings.
If it's a fly buzzing around the spider waits in his web until he has caught his prey. But if he hears the hum of the wasp's wings the spider will drop from his web and scurry away to any hiding place he can find.—Philadelphia North American.

An Old Alarm Clock.

At Schramberg, in the Black forest, there is a respectable alarm clock that warned sleepers it was time to get up when Charles I. was king of England.
This was made in 1683, and it is deemed a remarkable piece of workmanship. In form it resembles a lantern wherein is a lighted candle, the wick of which is automatically clipped every minute by a pair of scissors. The candle is slowly pushed upward by a spring, which also controls the mechanism of the clock, and at the required hour of waking an alarm is sounded, and at the same time the movable sides of the lantern fall, and the room is flooded with light.

Rock Salt and Gypsum.

Beds of rock salt and gypsum occur in large areas in the United States.
They are found in the salina rocks of New York and Pennsylvania and in other formations of about the same age laid down in Michigan and Ohio during periods of great aridity. In southeastern Michigan a bed of rock salt 900 feet thick is said to have been found by drill holes. Dense brines or salt deposits are found in carboniferous strata in West Virginia and other eastern states, in the "red beds" of the southwest and the Rocky mountains, in the cretaceous deposits of several of the western states and in the tertiary strata of the far southwest—Argonaut.

A Hearty Eater.

In a book on gastronomy appears this anecdote of the gastronomic professors of a Swiss guard in the employment of the Marechal de Villars: "One day the guard was sent for by the marechal, who had heard of his enormous appetite. 'How many steins of beer can you eat?' he tentatively asked.
'Ah, monseigneur, for me I don't require many—five or six at the most.'
'And how many legs of mutton?'
'Legs of mutton? Not many—seven or eight.' 'And fat pullets?' 'Oh, as to pullets, only a few—a dozen.' 'And of pigeons?' 'As to pigeons, monseigneur, not many—forty, perhaps fifty.' 'And larks?' 'Larks, monseigneur? Always.'"

PREJUDICE.

The confirmed prejudices of a thoughtful life are as hard to change as the confirmed habits of an indolent life, and as some must trifle away youth, because they trifled away youth, others must labor on in a maze of error because they have wandered there too long to find their way out.—Bolingbroke.

DAINTY CAKES FOR DESSERTS.

With a sheet of sponge cake one may vary the desserts, having something different each day for a week if so desired.

Cut thin sponge cake in rounds, heap on sliced bananas and add a little lemon juice, then heap on sweetened and flavored whipped cream, dot with a cherry or bits of jelly.

Cut plain sponge cake in slices, using three slices for each serving, put these together with sweetened rhubarb or rhubarb and orange marmalade, decorate the top with cream and a bit of jelly.

Oranges sliced and placed as a filling in chocolate cake, served with a boiled custard is delicious.

Cake crumbs of various kinds with any stewed or canned fruit, make a most delicious dessert, served either steamed hot or baked.

Strawberry Dessert.—Cut plain cake in squares, and dip in canned strawberry juice to soften, put on a layer of sliced bananas and decorate with a few choice preserved strawberries. Serve with whipped cream colored with the juice and slightly sweetened.

Fig Betty.—Take two cupsful of cake crumbs, melt a tablespoonful of butter and stir in the crumbs until well mixed. Place a layer of the crumbs in a baking dish, add a thin layer of apple and figs, finish with the buttered crumbs. Add enough lemon juice and water to keep the mixture moist enough to bake. Cook until the apple is tender.

Pineapple Toast.—Toast in a little hot butter some rounds of sponge cake or any plain cup cake which is firm enough to hold in shape. Lay on a slice of the pineapple making the circle of cake fit the circle of pineapple, cover with another circle of cake, sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with whipped cream or a sauce made from the juice of the canned pineapple. Thicken a cupful of the juice with two tablespoonfuls of butter, bubbling hot, add two of flour and when well mixed pour on the juice. Serve all hot.

Mr. Martin to Leave Kingston.

J. D. Martin, and not J. D. Taylor, as was stated in last night's Freeman, has been the organist of St. John's Episcopal Church, for the past year.

While in Kingston, Mr. Martin, who is a thorough musician and organist, and a choir director of exceptional ability, has done much in the short time that he has been here for the promotion of the best in music in the community, in every way.

His work with the boys of St. John's choir has resulted in an unusually fine tonal effect, which means right tone production for the singers. Furthermore he has shown the beauty of the Plain Chant, which is now being used in all Episcopal Churches of note, as being typical of the greatest dignity and religious seriousness, so desirable in a church service.

During his short stay in Kingston, Mr. Martin has made many friends among the musicians of the city, who fully appreciate his worth, and among the people of St. John's church, all of whom will sincerely regret his return to the wider musical sphere of New York city.

A GRACEFUL FROCK.

Spring Model of a Soldierly Cape For House Wear.

King's blue meteor satin develops this original frock with winged panels on the sides of the skirt, which is shirred.

ed three times across the back. A charming feature of the bodice is the beaded cape, done in different shades of blue beads. The high collar takes the line of the cape in the back.

THE FIVE O'CLOCK.

Goodies For the Tea Table at the Height of its Season.

There are many tempting ways of serving dates besides plain and as a sweet. Use them as a filling for sandwiches. Take two cups of dates, put them through a meat chopper, then add a cup of peanut butter and blend them together. Then spread the paste between slices of white bread.

Another woman also uses dates in baked custard, in tapioca and as filling for cookies, pies and cakes. Mixed with apples, celery and nuts they make a delicious salad. To use dates as a pudding cooked with rice, add to a quart of milk a cup of stoned dates and a quarter of a cup of rice. Sweeten and bake in a slow oven.

Cook keeps in her cold closet an assortment of pastes and butters that are used so much in preparing refreshes for the tea, after dinner suppers and bridge parties. She has them ready in small, labeled glass jars and tins and sauces can be made at a moment's notice. Here are a few of her best recipes:

Sardine Butter.—Rub skinned and boned sardines to a paste and then gradually blend. A little lemon juice may be added to butter to give it very desirable sandwich flavors. Orange butter for afternoon tea sandwiches can be mixed with chopped nuts and figs or any other sweet filling. Grated orange rind may flavor the butter.

Olive may be ground in a vegetable chopper, mashed to a paste and creamed into butter. Capers are chopped and creamed with butter, and either of these can be used on broiled chops or beefsteaks, as sandwich butters or on green peas or string beans to improve the flavor.

Make Your Own Fernery.

You can have success with grapefruit seeds by taking a few precautions. When planting these seeds do not keep any that have been cut. Then, before planting, the seeds should be soaked for one day or at least half a day. Fill the receptacle up to within three-quarters of an inch of the top with dirt mixed with a little sand, on which place the seeds so thickly that no soil can be seen. Then cover with dirt and keep in a warm, sunny place, wetting with warm water, but not too wet. The seeds sprout in about five weeks. They are both beautiful and hardy and need practically no attention.

Prune Gelatin.

One heaping tablespoonful of powdered gelatin, two cupsful of water, half a pound of good prunes, three tablespoonfuls of sugar and the strained juice of one orange are required for this dish. Take the stones out of the prunes after soaking them. Cut the prunes in halves, put them into a saucepan with the water and sugar and cook very slowly until soft; then add the gelatin, first dissolving it in hot water, and the orange juice. Pour into a wet ring mold. When set serve with whipped and sweetened cream in the center. Decorate with lady fingers.

The Easier Way.

"Don't you want to be a leader of the people?" "It's hard work to be a real leader," commented Senator Borghum. "It's usually easier to get along by jollying the crowd."—Washington Star.

MRS. MARGARET HORTON
"WOMAN OF MYSTERY" IN
WAITE POISON CASE.

New York, March 28.—Mrs. Margaret Horton, a singer with grand opera aspirations, has been found to be the "woman of mystery" in the Waite poison case. Mrs. Horton admits having gone to Waite's "studio" in the Hotel Plaza to study music and languages with the dentist now accused of having killed his millionaire father-in-law, John E. Peck, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. John E. Peck, at his Riverside Drive apartment, by giving them arsenic.

Mrs. Horton's husband, Harry M. Horton, declares his entire belief in his wife's innocence of any wrongdoing.

Using Old Bottles.

A bottle may be cut out by wrapping a red saturated in coal oil around it several times, then setting fire to the cord, and just when it has finished burning plunging the bottle into cold water and tapping the end you wish to break off. Oddly shaped or prettily colored bottles make good vases. The top of a large bottle having a small neck makes a good funnel. Large, round bottles make good jelly glasses.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyke have a host of friends who wish them a happy married life.

Chambers-Van Eiten.
The handsome residence of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Van Eiten on West Chestnut street, was the scene, this afternoon, at four o'clock, of a wedding of much social interest, though informal in character, when Miss Katherine Van Eiten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Eiten, became the bride of Donald Irving Chambers, the only son of the late Dr. Jacob and Mrs. Chambers of this city. The bride wore a beautiful wedding robe of white satin. There were no attendants. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. M. Coerr, rector of Holy Cross Church, and was followed by a reception. Both the ceremony and reception were attended by only the most intimate friends of the bride and groom.

Illustrated Lecture Saturday Night.

An illustrated lecture of unusual interest will be given in the chapel of the First Dutch Church on Saturday evening of his week under the patronage of the Monday Club, when Frederick C. Sutor of New York will show the beautiful pictures of the new famous "Harriman Interstate Park" at Bear Mountain, the pictures being provided by the Palsades Interstate Commission, of which Mr. Sutor is a member. He will also give an interesting and entertaining account of this splendid piece of interstate conservation work, which should be of special interest to all persons living in the Hudson valley. There will be no admission charged for the lecture, and the public is very cordially invited to be present.

Soiskanishade Club.

An interesting meeting of the Soiskanishade Club was held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William Cranston on Clinton avenue. The roll call consisted of a discussion of "Birds of Spring," which brought out many noteworthy facts about the habits and songs of our early feathered visitors. The first paper of the afternoon, by Miss Sarah Cloonan, had for its subject "Booth Tarkington," in an interesting and entertaining manner she told of the life of this noted author, his works dealing with American life, and more particularly of life in the west. Among the more noted works by this writer, Miss Cloonan mentioned "The Gentleman from Indiana," "Monsieur Beaucaire," "The Conquest of Canada," and "The Penrod Stories." The second paper on "Nova Scotia," given by Mrs. Charles N. Turner, was unusual in character, in that it consisted of a letter from a friend, a visitor in the Land of Evangeline. The letter gave a graphic account of the geography of the country and mentioned the climate as temperate but changeable. The chief towns were described, together with the educational buildings, and the principle occupation of the inhabitants. In more romantic vein the letter mentioned the scenes whereon were enacted Longfellow's story of "Evangeline." Next Monday the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Vernon Hull, No. 204 Washington avenue.

Monday Club.

The Monday Club were the guests of Mrs. Kenyon at her home on Fair street, this week. Mrs. Kenyon had the paper for the day, her subject being "Russian Social Life and Customs." A report from the "Town and County Committee," was given after the paper, Mrs. Higginson telling of the work of the State Charities Aid Association, through the county agent, Miss Bruyn, in the county. Mrs. Joseph M. Fowler told of the new bridge soon to be built, and Mrs. Brink reported on various city enterprises, the gathering of tent caterpillar egg masses, by school children, with prizes for the greatest amount gathered, the automobile show, etc. It was decided at this meeting, that the Monday Club would again be the hostesses of the general public on Saturday evening of this week. At that time, Frederick C. Sutor of New York city, will give an illustrated lecture in the chapel of the First Dutch Church on "The Harriman Interstate Park," to which the people of Kingston are cordially invited without further invitation or notice, as no admission will be charged. The Monday Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Kenyon again next week.

Purvis-Spangenberg.

Saturday afternoon Miss Emma Spangenberg and Alderman James W. Purvis of No. 631 Abel street were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spangenberg, No. 46 Adams street, by the Rev. John J. Bott, rector of the Church of the Holy on "Nova Scotia." The bride was given in a blue broadcloth traveling suit with hat to match. She was attended by Miss Minnie Foss as bridesmaid, who also was attired in blue broadcloth. The best man was Fred Spangenberg, a brother of the bride. As the wedding party entered the parlor the wedding march was played by Mrs. J. Lawrence Spangenberg. Following the ceremony a sumptuous repast was served and Mr. and Mrs. Purvis left later on the West Shore train for a honeymoon trip which will be spent in the south. Upon their return they will reside in Wilbur. The home was beautifully and artistically decorated with palms and cut flowers for the occasion and the bride was the recipient of many gifts, including cut glass, linens and checks. The groom was elected alderman of the Thirtieth ward at the last election and both he and his bride have a host of friends who wish them a long and prosperous married life. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spangenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Spangenberg, Jr., and Mrs. Frederick and Harry Spangenberg, Mr. and Mrs. James McIntyre and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Purvis, the Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Bott, Mrs. Walsh and daughter, and Miss Rundle and daughter.

Spades Gets the Bid.

"They had an interesting game of auction at the Jinks home the other evening."

"How was that?"

"Why, Cholly Littlebrane was calling on Clara Jinks, and he wanted to make it one heart."

"Yes."

"But Clara stood out for two diamonds."

"Of course."

"And then Jinks got into the game with a handful of clubs."

"Including all the honors, I suppose."

"Whoreupon Cholly passed through the window and made such a hole in the terrace they had to call it spades."

—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

HELPFULNESS.

Every man and woman ought to prize above almost every other quality the capacity for self help, and yet every man and woman will at some time or other be sorely in need of the help of others and at some time or other will find that he or she can in turn give help even to the strongest.

THIS WASP HATES SPIDERS.

He Kills and Buries Them and Lays an Egg in Each Grave.

Just to show that he's sanitary, also that he's looking out for the future generation, the South African wasp always buries his prey after he kills it. He stabs a spider with his poisonous dart, digs a hole in the sand and buries the dead spider with an egg. When the egg hatches the young wasp has a dead spider to nibble at until he gets big enough to hunt food for himself. Thus the wasp looks out for his children before they're hatched. He's a member of the family which scientists have named the pompilids.

Spiders are his favorite victims. He will pursue the spiders which live on the ground and paralyze them with his poisonous sting. Even the spiders which build webs are not safe from his attack. He will fight his way through the web until he reaches the center, where he will grab the spider and hurry away to bury it. The pompilids is so divided and fearful that the spider has learned to distinguish him by the hum of his wings. If it's a fly buzzing around the spider waits in his web until he has caught his prey. But if he hears the hum of the wasp's wings the spider will drop from his web and scurry away to any hiding place he can find.—Philadelphia North American.

An Old Alarm Clock.

At Schramberg, in the Black forest, there is a respectable alarm clock that warned sleepers it was time to get up when Charles I. was king of England. This was made in 1651, and it is considered a remarkable piece of workmanship. In form it resembles a lantern wherein is a lighted candle, the tick of which is automatically clipped every minute by a pair of scissors. The candle is slowly pushed upward by a spring, which also controls the mechanism of the clock, and at the required hour of waking an alarm is sounded, and at the same time the movable sides of the lantern fall, and the room is flooded with light.

Rock Salt and Gypsum.

Beds of rock salt and gypsum occur in large areas in the United States. They are found in the salina rocks of New York and Pennsylvania and in other formations of about the same age laid down in Michigan and Ohio during periods of great aridity. In southeastern Michigan a bed of rock salt 900 feet thick is said to have been found by drill holes. Dense brines or salt deposits are found in carboniferous strata in West Virginia and other eastern states, in the "red beds" of the southwest and the Rocky mountains. In the cretaceous deposits of several of the western states and in the tertiary strata of the far southwest—Argentina.

A Hearty Eater.

In a book on gastronomy appears this anecdote of the gastronomic prowess of a Swiss guard in the employment of the Marquis de Villars. "One day the guard was sent for by the marquis, who had heard of his enormous appetite. 'Don many sirups of beef can you eat?' he tentatively asked. 'Ah, monseigneur, for me I don't require many—five or six at the most.' 'And how many legs of mutton?' 'Legs of mutton? Not many—seven or eight.' 'And fat pullets?' 'Oh as to pullets, only a few—a dozen.' 'And of rice?' 'As to pigeons, monseigneur, not many—fourty, perhaps fifty.' 'And larks?' 'Larks, monseigneur? All ways.'"

PREJUDICE.

The confirmed prejudices of a thoughtful life are as hard to change as the confirmed habits of an indolent life, and as some must trifle away youth, because they trifled away youth, others must labor on in a maze of error because they have wandered there too long to find their way out.—Bolingbroke.

YALLUM AND ALCON ARRESTED IN ALBANY

Abram Alcon and Morris Yallum, Kingston shoe merchants, were Monday morning arraigned before United States Commissioner Borden H. Mills at Albany upon a charge of violating the inter-state commerce act. The complainant in the case is the New York Central railroad and the men were taken into custody by New York Central detectives. Upon their pleas of not guilty they were admitted to bail by Commissioner Mills.

It is alleged that the Kingston merchants purchased 20 cases of shoes in Albany and had them delivered at the New York Central freight house for shipment to Kingston. Yallum, it is said, went to the freight house to mark the address to which the cases were to be delivered upon the boxes and while there erased a Boston address from a case of shoes shipped by Smith & Herrick of Albany, and placed the name of his own firm in Kingston on this box.

Smith & Herrick later complained that their case of shoes had not been delivered at the Boston address and the New York Central officials started an investigation. A workman told of having seen Yallum marking the cases and an investigation was made. The Central officials discovered an extra box of shoes in the consignment to the Kingston firm and upon the advice of Detective Macri the address of Yallum and Alcon was erased from the extra case and the old Boston address restored.

Later the New York Central officials received a demand from the Kingston men for $108 for a case of shoes. They claimed that they received only 20 cases when they should have received 21. It was after the receipt of this communication that the railroad company made the complaint against the Kingston men which resulted in their arraignment Monday.—Albany Argus.

Will be in Kingston

FRIDAY, MARCH 31
AT 340 BROADWAY

DR. SWINBURNE OF ALBANY.

has made most wonderful cures of cases where other physicians had failed. Any one suffering from any trouble, where the family doctor has failed to cure, should consult Dr. Swinburne and obtain his opinion and learn of other cases he has cured even when other doctors declared the trouble incurable. Even cases where other doctors declare an operation necessary, have been cured by Dr. Swinburne without the need of surgery. If you have not consulted Dr. Swinburne, you have not half tried to get well. No use to go to New York city to see specialists, for the treatment given by Dr. Swinburne is most effective and will cure any case that it is possible for any treatment to cure. It will cost nothing to consult this most successful physician and talk over your case, and if you decide to take his treatment the charges are very reasonable. The doctor has permanent offices at 340 Broadway, Kingston, where he will see patients on Fridays, from 10 a. m. to 12 m. and 2 to 4 p. m. Also Thursday evenings, 6 to 8.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAR. 28, 1916.

The details of Uncle Sam's adventure in Mexico grow more humiliating as the days pass by. At present our troops are compelled to get their supplies by mule pack, wagon train, motorcycles and auto trucks over a route between one and two hundred miles long, because Carranza refuses to permit them to use the Mexican Northwestern railroad, which parallels the trail. They can communicate with their own country only by means of messengers, since they are also prohibited from using the Mexican telegraph lines. This is a disgraceful way to treat American soldiers who are on the friendly errand of helping to catch the bandit Villa, but Washington fails to protest. In fact, protest would be useless. Carranza knows as well as anybody that courage is about the only asset of the United States army. Its automobile squad is a joke. Only two of the eight aeroplanes which it possessed are now in commission, and they are likely to stop working any minute. The eight other machines owned by our Government are at the aviation school at San Diego, but they are defective and dangerous. Bitter as the truth is, we cannot hide the fact that our "punitive expedition" must blindly obey Carranza's orders, no matter how absurd, since it is not strong enough to insist on decent treatment. Yet there are plenty of people who declare that the agitation for preparedness is solely in the interest of the munitions makers. Doubtless there are some folks who think eating was invented merely to furnish a market for farm products.

The cares and responsibilities of office rest heavily upon some public officers, a statement especially true of any conscientious occupant of the executive chair at Albany. Hence, it is all the greater compliment to Kingston and its citizens that Governor Whitman has consented to participate in the opening ceremonies of the Automobile Show. Of course, Governors are human and frequently enjoy being a part of such occasions. We would not like our Governors if they were not. To the present executive has fallen the lot of opening a number of these exhibitions in all parts of the State, from Buffalo to the Bronx. Hence, it is up to Ulster County to make this event and the Governor's visit of more than passing interest. The attendance of citizens of all classes on the opening night of the big exhibition is urged in order that Kingston hospitality may live up to its best traditions and the executive be given a greeting in keeping with the important office that he occupies.

Uniformity is lacking in presidential primaries not only as to the dates upon which these occur in the twenty-two States employing them, but also as to the procedure. In some States every candidate for delegate to the national convention must announce his preference, and an unqualified delegation is unknown under any of the rules. In Illinois the name of any man designated on the ballot as a preference for President must remain until personally withdrawn. In Ohio the candidate must file a written declaration of willingness to accept, while Massachusetts differs from all the rest in leaving a citizen participate in any party primary to choose without obligation to support the nominee. National party rules have nothing to do with the number of delegates to be chosen in some States; California enforces the unit rule by law. Democrats are credited with having been favorable to the unit rule until 1912, when the present Secretary of War had it abrogated so that he might vote for Mr. Wilson instead of for Judson Harmon. The presidential primary fails signally to meet the present situation within the Republican party. In addition the utter lack of uniformity in such legislation does not make the institution at all desirable to the more than half the States of the Union which are now operating without it.

It has become the fashion for public officials to issue impressive reports calling attention to the saving and economies which might be effected by carrying out certain recommendations which they make. The latest municipal report on the subject has been issued in New York city and shows how the city could save $3,287,366, which is fourteen and a half times the amount required to run the office of that particular official for a year. This official is modest in his figures. The only trouble with his report is that the saving mentioned actually could be effected, but it would require reorganization of certain departments and abolishing time-honored fees received by certain other officials. No change as radical as the abolition of fees should be recommended, at least for the present generation. The change would not affect the existing office-holder but his successor and the man who expects to succeed him and then his successor and a long line of eligibles who are already grooming themselves for that particular position have all proceeded, or will proceed, with their plans on the assumption that they should receive as much in fees as anyone who at any time held that particular job. It is the experience of American government that in considering a proposal to abolish fees, such arguments carry weight among weighty people. There is only one way to run a popular government and that is to reorganize all departments at stated intervals, which usually results in cutting down the number of employees and increasing the salaries of the heads of the departments who discovered the means of making a good show.

At End of Voyage.

Martin Littleton tells a story of two Englishmen whom he met while crossing from Europe. The Englishmen were both of a serious and conservative turn of mind. Although they shared the same table, and sat side by side in their deck chairs, they did not speak to each other, considering it improper to do so, as they had not been introduced. On the last day, when New York was near at hand, one of them decided it was time to waive conventionality and make the acquaintance of his fellow countryman. They were standing side by side on the rail. The man with the initiative was lost in thought. Finally, when he had decided upon a timely introductory remark, he said: "Goin' over?" "Yes," replied the other Englishman, "I rather thought I would. Are you?"—New York Times.

INDEPENDENCE UNION EXPLAINS

Committee Gives Its Conception of Neutrality and the Proper Policy of the United States Government.

The following letter has been received by The Freeman from the Rev. F. P. Wilhelm of the local branch of the American Independence Union:

Editor The Kingston Freeman:
Sir:—The Freeman of March 22nd contained an editorial in which an attack was made on the members of the Kingston Branch of the American Independence Union. Not only the active members of the society, but many of the hundreds of men and women who attended the mass meeting on Sunday, March 19th, and many others besides who are lovers of fair play, regard the attack as unjustified and uncalled for. They are indignant at the language, tone and contents of the editorial in question. The attack was not confined to principles and issues. Men were attacked. The attempt was made to cast suspicion on the character and motives of the members of the society, among whose number are five clergymen.

Whilst the members of the society are convinced that the people of Kingston in their great majority do not approve of journalism of this type, they nevertheless feel it to be their duty toward themselves and toward the community to enter a protest against public attacks of this character, and to suggest and insist that there be no recurrence.

The daily press is to a certain extent a public utility. The newspapers of the home city are, as it were, a household necessity. We cannot get along without them. Necessity is upon us that we receive them into our homes as our daily guests. And we have a right to expect that they shall not unnecessarily offend us, the members of our family, and our friends.

The members of the A. I. U. do not by any means expect to be spared with criticism or attack. They themselves have attacked others and intend to do so in the future. But their controversies have been and shall continue to be over principles, ideals and facts. They shall be careful not to judge men's hearts. They also intend to observe the ordinary rules of courtesy and politeness, and they expect the same of others.

The continued existence and constant growth of the local branch of the A. I. U. is largely due to the pronouncedly pro-English, anti-German, and anti-German-American attitude of the daily press of our city, and to the instinct of self-protection. If they had a newspaper to speak for them and plead their cause before the public, no mass meetings would probably be held.

The news department of The Freeman on the whole, in the opinion of the members of the society, has been very fair, but not the editorial department. Whilst in one respect they ought to feel grateful and elated in view of the fact that the war editorials of The Freeman have increased the membership of their society (and, incidentally, the circulation of the Staats-Zeitung, Deutsch-Amerikaner, the Abendpost, the N. Y. American, and the N. Y. Evening Mail), they would prefer to gain their members through other agencies and have the good will of their friend, the enemy.

With regard to the question of neutrality the following may be stated:

The members of the society have never sought to conceal the fact that they regard the cause of the Central Powers as essentially just, and that of the Allies as essentially unjust. This is largely due to the fact that they know, because they have been able to read and weigh both sides of the story of the great war. They are in a measure familiar with the past and recent history of the German people, and the development and present trend of German thought and German ideals, something which is very difficult, yea, well nigh impossible, to those who are unable to read the German language. German books and German periodicals. They in a measure know Kant, Fichte, Schelling, Hegel, Arndt, Goethe, Ranke, Bismarck, also Nietzsche, Freitschke and Bernhardi, and their rating by intellectual Germany, and Rudolf Eucken, Adolf Harnack, and Emperor William II. They are fortunately not compelled to view the war and the causes that led up to the war through British spectacles only, or to allow the N. Y. Sun, Times, Tribune or Herald to do their thinking for them.

They frankly admit that with respect to the tremendous issues involved in the present world war they are pro-German, anti-English and anti-Russian. They admit that they are not neutral in their sentiments and hopes. They hope and pray that in this war the Central Powers will not be defeated. They have the profound conviction that it would be detrimental to the best interest of the United States, of continental Europe, and of the world, if England and Russia were thwarted in their attempt to crush Germany, and that, therefore, their attitude is distinctly pro-American and pro-civilization.

But whilst they admit that they are not neutral in their hopes and sentiments they protest that they are neutral in their demand for strict neutrality of governmental attitude and action. There is a difference between neutrality of sentiment and neutrality of official governmental action and attitude. They insist that in order to be neutral our government must refrain from giving military aid of any kind, directly or indirectly, to either group of the belligerents. But first and above all they insist that the United States shall not be cajoled or forced into the war on the side of the Allies for the purpose of saving England from defeat. They have never made the unneutral demand that the United States should enter the war on the side of the Teutonic powers for the purpose of saving Germany from defeat, or to extend to them any kind of military aid. They have asked no favors for Germany, but they have asked, and shall continue to ask, justice, truth, and American fair play for all belligerents, including Germany.

Attacks which they regard as unjustified will not weaken but only strengthen the members of the A. I.

TO ASK GERMANY ABOUT SUSSEX

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 28.—The United States will ask Germany the direct question whether it was a German submarine which sank the steamer Englishman and attacked the channel liner Sussex. This was decided on at today's cabinet meeting. Secretary Lansing explained that while the evidence so far obtained was fragmentary in character, it indicated that the survivors of the Sussex saw the "wake" of a torpedo just before the explosion which shattered the vessel. Because of this fact, the cabinet decided that it would be a proper question to propound to Berlin as to whether Germany accepted the responsibility. Already the state department and the White House have indicated that if a submarine was responsible, there could be no doubt of its nationality.

It is expected that the orders to make an official inquiry will be sent to Ambassador Gerard this afternoon. He will be told that because of the tension throughout this country, a speedy reply is needed. At the same time he will ask regarding the sinking of the Englishman.

Suggestions that Germany will disavow the attack on the Sussex, should it be proven that a submarine was responsible, and will offer reparation in the form of indemnities and punishment of the submarine commander, found no responsive reception at the cabinet meeting. The reports that the state department already had been assured by the German embassy that Germany will make reparation if to blame were denied by Secretary Lansing. It was explained that certain sources in Washington for the dissemination of "pro-German" suggestions had intimated that there would be no question that such action would be taken but not a single official word, either from the embassy here or from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, has so far reached either the White House or the state department. Even though such disavowal shall come, officials say there exists grave doubt that the United States would be satisfied. It is known that President Wilson believes that if it shall be shown that the German promises, solemnly made, have been violated, then the entire question of how much weight shall be given to promises of this character should be considered by both the executive and the legislative branches of the government.

The president, officials say, will welcome opportunity to ask congress for advice and will do so as soon as the mystery surrounding the alleged renewal of the Teutonic submarine warfare is cleared. And the next move in the existing situation, if it finally is established that German submarines again are sinking merchant vessels, without warning, will be at least suggested by congress.

SOMETHING REALLY BIG.

Music Will be a Feature of the Coming Attraction.

The complaint is often made by those accustomed to visit the large theaters in New York city, and other large cities, that Kingston does not have anything "really big," because our theater is not large enough to give sufficient stage room for the production of the more elaborate and spectacular plays and operas. This criticism cannot, however, hold good with the increasing popularity of moving picture shows, for the greatest productions of this sort, to be seen anywhere in the world can be shown at the opera house. For some time, Mr. Gildersleeve, manager of the opera house, has been besieged with requests for the presentation of "The Birth of a Nation," especially so since our people have become more and more aroused to a live interest in national history in the making and as it has been made. Yet many of those who asked for this marvelous picture show, did not realize the cost of this production, and as a result have been disappointed that though they may have the opportunity to see this film, which has backed an immense theater in New York for over a year, it will cost considerably more than the ordinary movie. A Freeman reporter asked Mr. Gildersleeve, why it was that the cost of this production was so considerable, and among other very interesting facts brought to light about the play, it was learned that the almost unthinkable number of persons employed, running way up into the thousands, and the length of time required to prepare the films, were the chief factors in the expense of arranging the Birth of a Nation. That Kingston people thoroughly appreciate Mr. Gildersleeve's enterprise in bringing this film to Kingston, and that for three evenings and two matinee performances, is shown by the gratifying advance sale of tickets. This is an educational production that every child of sufficient age to know and realize anything of American history, should surely be taken to see, for it is a great history lesson lived before one's very eyes, with the gripping, holding power of romance running throughout the entire production. Again, the music is almost as wonderful as the pictures, and Mr. Gildersleeve expressed himself as more than pleased that he could give to his patrons such a musical setting of this work, as only such a body of musicians as thirty members of the Kingston Symphony Society could offer.

Meat Pie Supper.

CAPTAIN SMITH AND THE FUNDS

Poughkeepsie Fathers Are Demanding That the "Captain" Give an Accounting of the Funds, Some of Which Were Collected in New Paltz.

A score of worried mothers paced to and fro in front of the headquarters of the Junior Provisional Company on Liberty street, Poughkeepsie, Monday evening seeking their boys who had joined the company which had been gotten up by "Captain" Charles Smith. The sons it was learned later had left early that morning with "Captain" Smith for West Point, where they spent the night.

At the same time that the mothers were worrying about their sons the fathers were demanding an accounting by Smith of the funds that had been collected by the boys since they started the campaign to raise money ostensibly for uniforms and rifles. After the boys got their uniforms the money still poured into Smith's pockets. It seems that when the company was first formed it was announced by the boys seeking contributions from prominent citizens of Poughkeepsie that George G. Salberg, a respected resident of the bridge city, was to act as treasurer. Mr. Salberg states that he never had handled the funds of the company and had been told that Smith was collecting all the money.

Collections were not confined to Poughkeepsie for Captain Smith took the boys over to New Paltz on Saturday where the boys accosted a number of residents and secured contributions which it was stated had been turned over to Smith.

Louis Hoffman, father of one of the boys, called at police headquarters in Poughkeepsie that evening and was advised to appear before Judge Overacker today and swear out a warrant against Smith.

Josh Billings said that the beauty of a postage stamp was that "it stuck right on the job until it got there." That is what newspaper advertising will do if you let it. It will keep right at it day in and day out, carrying its message to people ready to receive it. And each time it will be planting the seeds of the profit plant. Advertising is no business for a quitter but it is a mighty force for the man who knows how to hold fast.

Another—it is easily and quickly digested—generally in about one hour.

But the big reason is—Grape-Nuts. Besides having delicious taste, supplies all the rich nutriment of whole wheat and malted barley, including the "vital" mineral salts necessary for building brain, nerve and muscle.

Always ready to eat direct from the package, Grape-Nuts with cream or good milk is a well balanced ration—the utmost in sound nourishment.

Mr. Martin to Leave Kingston.
J. D. Martin, and not J. D. Taylor, as was stated in last night's Freeman, has been the organist of St. John's Episcopal Church, for the past year. While in Kingston, Mr. Martin, who is a thorough musician and organist, and choir director of exceptional ability, has done much in the short time that he has been here for the promotion of the best in music in the community, in every way. His work with the boys of St. John's choir has resulted in an unusually fine tone effect, which means right tone production for the singers. Furthermore, he has shown the beauty of the Plain Chant, which is now being used in all Episcopal Churches of note, as being typical of the greatest dignity and religious seriousness, so desirable in a church service. During his short stay in Kingston, Mr. Martin has made many friends among the musicians of the city, who fully appreciate his worth and among the people of St. John's church, all of whom will sincerely regret his return to the wider musical sphere of New York city.

Prune Gelatin.
One heaping tablespoonful of powdered gelatin, two cups of water, half a pound of good prunes, three tablespoonfuls of sugar and the strained juice of one orange are required for this dish. Take the stones out of the prunes after soaking them. Cut the prunes in halves, put them into a saucepan with the water and sugar and cook very slowly until soft; then add the gelatin, first dissolving it in hot water, and the orange juice. Pour into a wet ring mold. When set serve with whipped and sweetened cream in the center. Decorate with lady fingers.

The Easier Way.
"Don't you want to be a leader of the people?" "It's hard work to be a real leader," commented Senator Borah. "It's usually easier to get along by following the crowd."—Washington Star.

A GRACEFUL FROCK.

THE FIVE O'CLOCK.

Goodies For the Tea Table at the Height of Its Season.

There are many tempting ways of serving dates besides plain and as a sweet. Use them as a filling for sandwiches. Take two cups of dates, put them through a meat chopper, then add a cup of peanut butter and blend them together. Then spread the paste between slices of white bread.

Another woman also uses dates in baked custard, in tapioca and as filling for cookies, pies and cakes. Mixed with apples, celery and nuts they make a delicious salad. To use dates as a pudding, cooked with rice, add to a quart of rice a cup of soaked dates and a quarter of a cup of rice. Sweeten and bake in a slow oven.

Cook keeps in her cold closer an assortment of pastes and butters that are used so much in preparing refreshments for the tea, after dinner suppers and bridge parties. She has them ready in small, labeled glass jars and nibbles and sauces can be made at a moment's notice. Here are a few of her best recipes:

Sardine Butter.—Rub skinned and boned sardines to a paste and then gradually blend. A little lemon juice may be added to butter to give it very desirable sandwich flavors. Orange butter for afternoon tea sandwiches can be mixed with chopped nuts and figs or any other sweet filling. Grated orange rind may flavor the butter.
Olives may be ground in a vegetable chopper, mashed to a paste and creamed into butter. Caners are chopped and creamed with butter, and either of these can be used on broiled chops or beefsteaks, as sandwich butters or on green peas or string beans to improve the flavor.

Make Your Own Fernery.
You can have success with grapefruit seeds by taking a few precautions. When planting these seeds do not keep any that have been cut. Then, before planting, the seeds should be soaked for one day or at least half a day. Fill the receptacle up to within three-quarters of an inch of the top with dirt mixed with a little sand, on which place the seeds so thickly that no soil can be seen. Then cover with dirt and keep in a warm, sunny place, watering with warm water, but not too wet. The seeds sprout in about five weeks. They are both beautiful and hardy and need practically no attention.

Using Old Bottles.
A bottle may be cut off by wrapping a red saturated in coal oil around it several times, then setting fire to the cord, and just when it has finished burning plunging the bottle into cold water and tapping the end you wish to break off. Oddly shaped or prettily colored bottles make good vases. The top of a large bottle having a small neck makes a good funnel. Large, round bottles make good jelly glasses.

"WOMAN OF MYSTERY" IN WAITE POISON CASE.

New York, March 28.—Mrs. Margaret Horton, a singer with grand opera aspirations, has been found to be the "woman of mystery" in the Waite poison case. Mrs. Horton admits having gone to Waite's "studio" in the Hotel Plaza to study music and languages with the dentist now accused of having killed his millionaire father-in-law, John E. Peck, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. John E. Peck, at his Riverside Drive apartment, by giving them arsenic.
Mrs. Horton's husband, Harry M. Horton, declares his entire belief in his wife's innocence of any wrongdoing.

Using Old Bottles.
A bottle may be cut off by wrapping a red saturated in coal oil around it several times, then setting fire to the cord, and just when it has finished burning plunging the bottle into cold water and tapping the end you wish to break off. Oddly shaped or prettily colored bottles make good vases. The top of a large bottle having a small neck makes a good funnel. Large, round bottles make good jelly glasses.

DEMONSTRATIONS OF PRUNING WORK

Kingston High School Agriculture Students to Co-operate With Farm Bureau Manager Hook—Other Meetings Arranged for County.

Announcements were mailed to Kingston members of the Ulster County Farm Bureau Association this morning by Manager W. H. Hook telling of the pruning demonstration which has been arranged by Robert J. Service, of the Vocational Training department of Kingston High School, for 3 p. m. Thursday, March 30, at the orchard of John Reiner, Hillside Place, at the junction of Marius and Greenkill avenues.

This demonstration is given in co-operation with the County Farm Bureau Association and is primarily for the benefit of the Agriculture Class at the High School. However, all interested in pruning and fruit tree improvement are invited to attend. Manager Hook will lead the discussion and it is expected that all present will take an active interest in the afternoon's work.

Pruning Demonstration Dates.

The last blizzard prevented Farm Bureau Manager Hook from holding four of the pruning demonstrations the notices of which the farmers received some time ago. The Bureau has arranged to again hold these demonstrations according to the following schedule:

Saturday, April 1, 1:30—J. V. Merrihue, Olive Bridge.
Monday, April 3, 10:15 a. m.—C. B. Moule, Accord.
Tuesday, April 4, 3:15 p. m.—D. B. Humphrey, Napanoch.
Wednesday, April 5, 9:30 a. m.—C. F. Snyder, Mt. Marion.

Since the giving of these demonstrations is for the purpose of arousing a greater interest in the more profitable methods of fruit growing in the community the bureau expects all members of the Farm Bureau to talk out the demonstrations, to get out as large a number as possible of interested persons and to assist in making the demonstrations a success.

Struck at a Crossing.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Rochester, March 28.—An automobile in which there were two women, Mrs. Amelia Fox and Mrs. Anna Fox and a man, who was later identified as Charles Harris, 18 years old, formerly of Corning, was struck by an engine on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railroad at the Lyell Avenue crossing early this morning. All were taken to Rochester General Hospital. Harris has a fractured skull and broken leg and it is thought he will die. The women were cut and bruised. Harris has been living with an aunt, Mrs. TerBush, in Werner Park Lane.

High School Glee Club Concert.

Since early in the fall the High School Glee Club has been holding rehearsals for its concert and now word has leaked out that it will be given in the high school auditorium Friday evening, April 7. This is the first concert in which the combined Academies of Kingston and Ulster Academies will be heard and the result will be most pleasing, for under the supervision of Miss Emma Paulding they have been harmonized into one of the best choruses which has ever appeared before a music loving audience. Over a hundred of the best singers of the school will take part in the festival.

MRS. MAUD BAKER DE MARQUETTE, "COUNT" WHO WED SENT TO PRISON—"NOT SURPRISED," SAYS HIS BRIDE.

Los Angeles, March 28.—The shrinking of "Count Jean de Marquette" into plain Leonell Gianini was the startling anti-climax provided in Superior Judge Craig's court room when the young man came up for sentence on a burglary charge.

The revelation that the young man, who had posed as a French nobleman, was the son of an Ocean Park Heights rancher was a shock to several young women who had gathered in the court room. They had come under his spell and attributed to him ancestral halls and a gilded coronet.

Gianini looked around to see if a particular young woman was present, the one, in fact, who used to believe he was a very fascinating chap and also a count. She believed the latter assumption so strongly that he married him and fancied herself the countess. She is Mrs. Maud Baker de Marquette.

Mrs. de Marquette did not need the disillusionment, however, having penetrated the sham some time ago. When Gianini was convicted of a felony last week, she filed a suit for a divorce, naming that fact as ground for her action.

"So you are a count, are you?" asked Judge Craig, following an appeal of Gianini's attorney for his release that he might go back and fight for France.

Gianini drew himself up somewhat haughtily and admitted that the title fitted.

"Read that record, Captain Dodds, said the judge to his chief probation officer.

The record showed that Gianini had been spending most of his time getting arrested and serving sentences in the last ten years, also that he was born in Providence, R. I., and had never been to France.

"You are the most unprincipled, brazen and foolish impostor I have ever seen in this court room," said the judge. "Five years in Folsom."

The young wife was not in the court room, but when informed of the situation, said:

"I knew he wasn't a count. Soon after our marriage his whole shabby pretense was exposed to me. I am sorry he has to go to prison, but not surprised. That is, as far as my concern extends."

Value of Song.

A well-composed song strikes the mind and softens the feelings and produces a greater effect than a moral work, which convinces our reason, but does not warm our feelings or effect the slightest alteration in our habits.—Napoleon.

Treat in Store for the Boarders.

"Ma," queried the small daughter of the boarding housekeeper, "what shall I do with these basting threads?" "Give them to me and I will stir them into the frosting for the coconut cake," said her mother.—Youth's Companion.

MRS. KROM UNDER BONDS.

This Finishes the Trio Gathered in by the Police.

Mrs. Louise Krom of No. 129 Broadway, was found guilty of being a disorderly person after a trial this morning before Recorder Lang, who placed her under $500 bonds for a year. In case she was unable to furnish bond for that sum the sentence was six months in the county jail. She was represented by Frank W. Brooks at the trial, while Chris J. Planagan appeared for the corporation counsel, who is out of town.

The conviction of Mrs. Krom followed that of her daughter, Margaret Krom, who was sentenced to three months in jail, and Mrs. Irma Jones, who was sent to Bedford Reformatory. The three women were arrested last week by the police under the direction of Chief Wood, who had worked up the case against them.

The evidence at all three trials, the women electing to be tried separately, was given by a number of young men from the lower section of the city, who had visited the premises and told of what occurred.

According to the police the premises have long been an eye sore and conditions became so intolerable that it was decided to clean up.

The evidence presented at the trial by the young men was of an unprintable nature and if true the police deserve great credit for raiding the resort and bringing the women to trial.

It is said that Attorney Brooks, who represented the three women, will appeal the convictions found against the women by Recorder Lang.

CLARENCE GRIFFIN

ANOTHER STAR LOST TO SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, Cal., March 28.—San Francisco is experiencing a deal of trouble retaining tennis stars who have established national reputations. First R. Lindley Murray moved to New York to make his home, and only recently Maurice McLoughlin embarked in the sporting goods business with Thomas Bundy and took up his residence in Los Angeles.

Now comes word that "Peck" Griffin, who holds the doubles championship with William Johnston, is contemplating making his home in Honolulu.

"Peck" stopped off at Honolulu to play in the mid-Pacific carnival tournament. Ward Dawson and Beals Wright, the other players from the mainland returned home a week or so ago, but Griffin stayed over. It is said that he likes the country over there and is seriously considering making it his home.

Vox Populi.

The moral standard of the people, acting somehow, is always there, whether it be high or low. At its highest, however, it does not approach the noblest motives of the individual, for it is a communal conscience, not an individual conscience. It is never more than the highest common denominator of goodness.

Different Proposition.

"But, surely, Bunkum," said the white man, "you are not afraid of that old dog? Why, he eats right out of my hand!" "Yassah! Yassah! When he eats out of yo' hand, it's yo' hand; but when he done takes a fool notion to eat out of muh leg, it's muh leg, sah!"—Kansas City Star.

LITTLE TALKS WITH

WANT AD READERS

Within the past few months the scientific men of the nation have perfected a cross-country telephone and the wonderful novelty has been tried out by clubs and individuals and it has worked perfectly.

Just think what this means—in a short time, if you have a friend in San Francisco and you are in New York, all you will have to do to talk to your friend will be to go to the nearest telephone and pick up the receiver, tell the operator that you want to talk to Frisco and in a couple of minutes you will be holding a conversation over thousands of miles of electric wire.

This is just the latest step in civilization and undoubtedly there will be more and more wonderful aids to intercommunication between peoples within this generation.

But this method of communication is very costly yet, although it, of course, will be reduced in price as time goes on. But at present only the fairly rich can afford to use this trans-continental phone often and those in moderate circumstances could use it only in great emergencies, when it was almost an absolute necessity.

In the great big business and advertising world the other day a real estate owner in New York state got a letter from a man in San Francisco offering to buy a certain piece of property the former had for sale. The man in New York wondered how the man in San Francisco knew about his property, for he had never even heard the San Francisco name in his life, and besides, he had only decided to sell his property two weeks before getting the offer from the Far West.

On reading to the end of the letter, however, he discovered the reason. Some one had sent the San Francisco a New York newspaper for another purpose, but the westerner, being an up to date person, read the Want Column and saw the New Yorker's Want Ad offering his property for sale.

The result was a transaction in which both parties were satisfied and the means of this was that wonderful little worker and traveler—the Want Ad.

Of course, this was not as rapid and instantaneous as the phone, but the little Want Ad traveled across the continent and effected its mission just as rapidly as the Sam's mail service could get it there.

Want Ads work wonders and in most unexpected ways.

SPRING AWAKENING ALONG THE CREEK

The tug Rob was busy today breaking up the ice in the creek and coal slip and hauling out the boats that had been laid up in the slip for the winter. Farther up the creek at Dwyer's boat yard a force of about fifty men were busy sawing and breaking up the ice to make a basin so that a scow could be launched today and to make room for the large box to be launched on Wednesday. This box will be towed down to the Cornell dock in the creek and loaded with ice from the cars that are laying on the U. & D. tracks. In order that the box could be brought down it has been necessary to remove the Cornell boats from their winter quarters. The lower creek from the island dock to the mouth is now open.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, March 28.—Trap shooting is another one of those nice young sports that have come along during the past few years and weaned away many of the dyed-in-wool baseball fans.

The popularity of the target game has increased by leaps and bounds during the past few years. There are at least 500,000 active trapshooters in the country today; men who indulge in the sport regularly. There are almost as many more who have a fondness for busting the clays but who cannot find enough leisure to permit them to engage in more than five or six shoots per year.

Statistics recently compiled show that there are in the United States at the present time approximately 3,000 registered clubs. The total outlay by these club houses, grounds, automatic traps and other devices is far beyond the $3,000,000 mark.

Investment Totals $38,000,000.

The average expenditure for guns, gun cases, glasses, cleaning rods, shooting jackets and other trap clothing is about $50 per man, which means that the trapshooters of the country have laid out approximately $35,000,000 for their equipment. This added to the $300,000 for club houses, etc., shows that $38,000,000 is invested in the sport. About 60,000,000 were fired during the 1915 season. Each cost an average of 5 cents. That means that trapshooters spend $3,000,000 annually for ammunition. Add to this the sums paid out for railroad fare, bus hire, hotel bills, etc.—approximately $12,000,000—and you find that the lovers of the clay game busting game spend $15,000,000 yearly in following their sport. There will be 412 shooting tournaments during the season, beginning in April and every community of any size will stage one or another of the shoots.

Sport Appeals to All.

The beauty of the trap shooting sport is that it appeals to women as well as men; that it is a game for the very old and very young, as well as the middle-aged. It is not a game that calls for strenuous exercise; it doesn't tire the muscles. It's one that develops the keenness of the eye, speeds up the brain and aids health generally because it brings its devotee out into the open.

Probably the oldest trap shooter in the country is "Uncle Joe" Heinman, of Wausau, Wis. He's 91—and he never misses a shoot in his particular section. "Uncle Joe" bangs the targets with astonishing regularity and his hitting average is far beyond that of the bulk of the ordinary shooters who are only one or one-third as old as "Uncle Joe."

There are on the lists of registered trapshooters scores of men around the 80 year mark. Thousands are over 60. There are tens of thousands who are still in their teens. One of the real clever shooters is a 12 year old youth who seems to have inherited the skill from his father who always ranked high in the tournaments.

MARCH 30th AND 31st AND APRIL 1st, 1916

GOV. CHAS. S. WHITMAN will open the show on THURSDAY, MARCH 30th. Francis M. Hugo, Secretary of State, will speak on Friday evening, March 31. Judge Wm. D. Cunningham, of the court of claims; Hon. Albert Callan, of Valatie, author of the famous automobile law which bears his name, will speak on the last night of the show. The railroads will run special trains and Kingston's stores will offer great bargains in special sales during show week.

Increased Year by Year.

The number of women who are finding great pleasure in the great outdoor sport is increasing steadily. A few years ago there were only a scattering few. Today the feminine shooters total well along into the thousands. Many of them compete with the male persons in the various shoots and the averages turned in by the fair sex is surprisingly high. Statistics covering the sport show that the number of enthusiasts has increased every year during the past fifteen years. Never once has it slowed up. There were only a scattered few tournaments back in 1901 to 1905. In 1913, however, the shoots numbered 286, in 1914 they jumped to 314 and last year 333 tournaments were staged. The number this year is nearly 100 beyond that of 1915.

And the game is just hitting its stride," the trapshooters say. "The public is just awakening to the pleasure that one gets in following the sport. When it fully realizes all the advantages of the game, their trapshooting army will number into the millions."

WEBSTER'S TEAM WINS THE SERIES

Bowling an up-hill battle throughout the last match of the ten game series with Wood's team. Webster's team won out last night by 14 pins in one of the most closely contested matches yet staged on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. The official scorer had Wood's score 3,349, making a slight miscalculation in the captain's score, which should be 719 instead of 679. The press agent of the two teams in glancing over the night's tallies spied the error and thereby boosted the losers' count by 40 points, not quite enough to win out. If Wood's clan did succeed in nosing ahead in this last match another would have to be staged to determine who shall provide the eats when the banquet comes around. Most of the bowling dopests thought that Wood's team would come to the surface in this encounter but although they missed by a slight score they fought for all they were worth.

Captain Wood's men showed that they were on deck for duty. They started off with a two point lead over their opponents in the first game and in the second they strengthened it by 36 more, at the same time netting the big score of 925 pins. But in the two following games they were on the decline and Webster's men nosed them out in the third by 19 pins. Everybody was on his toes when the last match was announced by the crier. Wood's team spurted but their antagonists more so, with the result that what appeared to be Wood's game turned out in favor of Webster's five, the latter garnering a pinage advantage of 73 pins in the last game, thereby winning the match.

Both teams were a little below their usual high standard. Giles, of the losers, tucked away the honors of the evening with an average of 185 and a high individual game of 213 pins, and "Col." Payne, of the winners, got in the best work for his team with an average of 176, Thompson bowling the highest single game with a score of 194 pins.

One of Captain Webster's prodigy was his own son, Freddie, who shot the balls down the greased floor just like any experienced participant in the indoor sport. The score:

Wood's Team	Avg.	Webster's Team	Avg.
Wood	166	188	187
Giles	213	192	179
Beeres	181	171	158
P. Thompson	137	189	120
DeForest	147	185	154
Totals	844	925	758
Webster's Team	181	156	135
G. Webster	181	192	162
Payne	181	192	162
R. Thompson	157	194	144
F. Webster	158	169	156
O'Connor	165	179	180
Totals	842	889	777
Grand total—Webster's team	3,354	Wood's team	3,300
Averages—Wood's team	185	Webster's team	187

pins; Webster's team, Payne, 176 pins. Highest individual game—Giles, 213 pins.

Value of Collective Opinion.

Whenever we stand in need of intricate knowledge, balanced judgment, or delicate analysis, it is our comfortable habit to question our neighbors. They may be no wiser and no better informed than we are; but a collective opinion has its value, or at least its satisfying qualities. For one thing, there is so much of it. For another, it seldom lacks variety.—Agnes Repplier, in the Atlantic.

TO ASK GERMANY ABOUT SUSSEX

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, March 28.—The United States will ask Germany the direct question whether it was a German submarine which sank the steamer Englishman and attacked the channel liner Sussex. This was decided on at today's cabinet meeting. Secretary Lansing explained that while the evidence so far obtained was fragmentary in character, it indicated that the survivors of the Sussex saw the "wake" of a torpedo just before the explosion which shattered the vessel. Because of this fact, the cabinet decided that it would be a proper question to propound to Berlin as to whether Germany accepted the responsibility. Already the state department and the White House have indicated that if a submarine was responsible, there could be no doubt of its nationality.

It is expected that the orders to make an official inquiry will be sent to Ambassador Gerard this afternoon. He will be told that because of the tension throughout this country, a speedy reply is needed. At the same time he will ask regarding the sinking of the Englishman.

Suggestions that Germany will disavow the attack on the Sussex, should it be proven that a submarine was responsible, and will offer reparation in the form of indemnities and punishment of the submarine commander, found no responsive reception at the cabinet meeting. The reports that the state department already had been assured by the German embassy that Germany will make reparation if to blame were denied by Secretary Lansing. It was explained that certain sources in Washington for the dissemination of "pro-German" suggestions had intimated that there would be no question that such action would be taken but not a single official word, either from the embassy here or from Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, has so far reached either the White House or the state department.

Even though such disavowal shall come, officials say there exists grave doubt that the United States would be satisfied. It is known that President Wilson believes that if it shall be shown that the German promises, solemnly made, have been violated, then the entire question of how much weight shall be given to promises of this character should be considered by both the executive and the legislative branches of the government.

The president, officials say, will welcome opportunity to ask Congress for advice and will do so as soon as the mystery surrounding the alleged renewal of the Teutonic submarine warfare is cleared. And the next move in the existing situation, if it finally is established that German submarines again are sinking merchant vessels, without warning, will be at least suggested by congress.

SOMETHING REALLY BIG.

Music Will be a Feature of the Coming Attraction.

The complaint is often made by those accustomed to visit the large theaters in New York city, and other large cities, that Kingston does not have anything "really big," because our theater is not large enough to give sufficient stage room for the production of the more elaborate and spectacular plays and operas. This criticism cannot, however, hold good with the increasingly popular moving picture shows, for the greatest productions of this sort, to be seen anywhere in the world, can be shown at the opera house. For some time, Mr. Gildersleeve, manager of the opera house, has been besieged with requests for the presentation of "The Birth of a Nation," especially so since our people have become more and more aroused to a live interest in national history in the making and as it has been made. Yet many of those who asked for this marvelous picture show, did not realize the cost of this production, and as a result have been disappointed, that though they may have the opportunity to see this film, which has packed an immense theater in New York for over a year, it will cost considerably more than the ordinary movie. A Freeman reporter asked Mr. Gildersleeve, why it was that the cost of this production was so considerable, and among other very interesting facts brought to light about the play, it was learned that the almost unthinkable number of persons employed, running way up into the thousands, and the length of time required to prepare the film, were the chief factors in the expense of arranging the Birth of a Nation.

Kingston people thoroughly appreciate Mr. Gildersleeve's enterprise in bringing this film to Kingston, and that for three evenings and two matinee performances, is shown by the gratifying advance sale of tickets. This is an educational production that every child of sufficient age to know and realize anything of American history, should surely be taken to see, for it is a great history lesson lived before one's very eyes, with the gripping, holding power of romance running throughout the entire production. Again, the music is almost as wonderful as the pictures, and Mr. Gildersleeve expressed himself as more than pleased that he could give to his patrons such a musical setting of this work, as only such a body of musicians as thirty members of the Kingston Symphony Society could offer.

Meat Pie Supper.

This will be an excellent place to take one's friends, visiting the automobile show, for supper on Friday evening, as the price will be only 50 cents for a delicious repast.

CAPTAIN SMITH AND THE FUNDS

Poughkeepsie Fathers Are Demanding That the "Captain" Give an Accounting of the Funds. Some of Which Were Collected in New Paltz.

A score of worried mothers paced to and fro in front of the headquarters of the Junior Provisional Company on Liberty street, Poughkeepsie, Monday evening seeking their boys who had joined the company which had been gotten up by "Captain" Charles Smith. The sons it was learned later had left early that morning with "Captain" Smith for West Point, where they spent the night.

At the same time that the mothers were worrying about their sons the fathers were demanding an accounting of the funds of the funds that had been collected by the boys since they started the campaign to raise money ostensibly for uniforms and rifles. After the boys got their uniforms the money still poured into Smith's pockets. It seems that when the company was first formed it was announced by the boys seeking contributions from prominent citizens of Poughkeepsie that George G. Salberg, a respected resident of the bridge city, was to act as treasurer. Mr. Salberg states that he never had handled the funds of the company and had been told that Smith was collecting all the money.

Collections were not confined to Poughkeepsie for Captain Smith took the boys over to New Paltz on Saturday where the boys secured a number of residents and secured contributions which it was stated had been turned over to Smith.

Louis Hoffman, father of one of the boys, called at police headquarters in Poughkeepsie that evening and was advised to appear before Judge Overacker today and swear out a warrant against Smith.

An appeal has been taken to the appellate division by the Kingston Gas and Electric Company from the $15,000 supreme court verdict given to Emma Bishop, as administratrix of Arthur Bishop, who was killed while in the employ of the company.

DEMONSTRATIONS OF PRUNING WORK

Kingston High School Agriculture Students to Co-operate With Farm Bureau Manager Hook—Other Meetings Arranged for County.

Announcements were mailed to Kingston members of the Ulster County Farm Bureau Association this morning by Manager W. H. Hook telling of the pruning demonstration which has been arranged by Robert J. Service, of the Vocational Training department of Kingston High School, for 3 p. m. Thursday, March 30, at the orchard of John Heiner, Hillside Place, at the junction of Marius and Greenkill avenues.

This demonstration is given in co-operation with the County Farm Bureau Association and is primarily for the benefit of the Agriculture Class at the High School. However, all interested in pruning and fruit tree improvement are invited to attend. Manager Hook will lead the discussion and it is expected that all present will take an active interest in the afternoon's work.

Pruning Demonstration Dates.

The last blizzard prevented Farm Bureau Manager Hook from holding four of the pruning demonstrations the notices of which the farmers received some time ago. The Bureau has arranged to again hold these demonstrations according to the following schedule:

Saturday, April 1, 1:30—J. V. Merriew, Olive Bridge.
Monday, April 3, 10:15 a. m.—C. B. Moulton, Accord.
Tuesday, April 4, 3:15 p. m.—D. B. Humphrey, Nanuet.
Wednesday, April 5, 9:30 a. m.—C. F. Snyder, Mt. Marion.

Since the giving of these demonstrations is for the purpose of arousing a greater interest in the more profitable methods of fruit growing in the community the bureau expects all members of the Farm Bureau to talk up the demonstrations, to get out as large a number as possible of interested persons and to assist in making the demonstrations a success.

Struck at a Crossing.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Rochester, March 28.—An automobile in which there were two women, Mrs. Amelia Fox and Mrs. Anna Fox and a man, who was later identified as Charles Harris, 18 years old, formerly of Corning, was struck by an engine on the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railroad at the Lyell Avenue crossing early this morning. All were taken to Rochester General Hospital. Harris has a fractured skull and broken leg and it is thought he will die. The women were cut and bruised. Harris has been living with an aunt, Mrs. Terhush, in Werner Park here.

High School Glee Club Concert.

Since early in the fall the High School Glee Club has been holding rehearsals for its concert and now word has leaked out that it will be given in the high school auditorium Friday evening, April 7. This is the first concert in which the combined voices of Kingston and Ulster Academies will be heard and the result will be most pleasing, for under the supervision of Miss Emma Pauline they have been harmonized into one of the best choruses which has ever appeared before a music loving audience. Over a hundred of the best singers of the school will take part in the festival.

MRS. MAUDE BAKER DE MARQUETTE.
"COUNT" WHO WED SENT TO PRISON—"NOT SURPRISED," SAYS HIS BRIDE.

Los Angeles, March 28.—The shrinking of "Count Jean de Marquette" into plain Leonell Gianini was the startling anti-climax provided in Superior Judge Craig's court room when the young man came up for sentence on a burglary charge.

The revelation that the young man, who had posed as a French nobleman, was the son of an Ocean Park Heights rancher was a shock to several young women who had gathered in the court room. They had come under his spell and attributed to him ancestral lais and a gilded coronet.

Gianini looked around to see if a particular young woman was present, the one, in fact, who used to believe he was a very fascinating chap and also a count. She believed the latter assumption so strongly that she married him and fancied herself the countess. She is Mrs. Maude Baker de Marquette.

Mrs. de Marquette did not need the disillusionment, however, having penetrated the sham some time ago. When Gianini was convicted of a felony last week, she filed a suit for a divorce, naming that fact as ground for her action.

"So you are a count, are you?" asked Judge Craig, following an appeal of Gianini's attorney for his release that he might go back and fight for France.

Gianini drew himself up somewhat haughtily and admitted that the title fitted.

"Read that record, Captain Dodds," said the judge to his chief probation officer.

The record showed that Gianini had been spending most of his time getting arrested and serving sentences in the last ten years, also that he was born in Providence, R. I., and had never been to France.

"You are the most unprincipled, brazen and foolish impostor I have ever seen in this court room," said the judge. "Get out of here."

The young wife was not in the court room, but when informed of the situation, said:

"I knew he wasn't a count. Soon after our marriage his whole shabby pretense was exposed to me. I am sorry he has to go to prison, but not surprised. That is, as far as my concern extends."

Value of Song.

A well-composed song strikes the mind and softens the feelings and produces a greater effect than a moral work, which convinces our reason, but does not warm our feelings or effect the slightest alteration in our habits.—Napoleon.

Treat in Store for the Boarders.

"Ma," queried the small daughter of the boarding housekeeper, "what shall I do with these basting threads?" "Give them to me and I will stir them into the frosting for the coconut cake," said her mother.—Youth's Companion.

LITTLE TALKS WITH

Within the past few months the scientific men of the nation have perfected a cross-country telephone and the wonderful novelty has been tried out by clubs and individuals and it has worked perfectly.

Just think what this means—in a short time, if you have a friend in San Francisco and you are in New York, all you will have to do to talk to your friend will be to go to the nearest telephone and pick up the receiver, talk to the operator that you want to talk to Frisco and in a couple of minutes you will be holding a conversation over thousands of miles of electric wire.

This is just the latest step in civilization and undoubtedly there will be more and more wonderful aids to intercommunication between people within this generation.

Our this method of communication is very costly yet, although it will be reduced in price as time goes on. But at present only the fairly rich can afford to use this trans-continental phone often and those in moderate circumstances could use it only in great emergencies, when it was almost an absolute necessity.

In the great big business and advertising world the other day a real estate owner in New York state got a letter from a man in San Francisco offering to buy a certain piece of property the former had for sale. The man in New York wondered how the man in San Francisco knew about his property, for he had never even heard the San Franciscan's name in his life, and besides, he had only decided to sell his property two weeks before getting the offer from the Far West.

On reading to the end of the letter, however, he discovered the reason. Some one had sent the San Franciscan a New York newspaper for another purpose, but the westerner, being an up to date person, read the Want Column and saw the New York's Want Ad offering his property for sale.

The result was a transaction in which both parties were satisfied and the means of this was that wonderful little worker and traveler—the Want Ad.

Of course, this was not as rapid and instantaneous as the phone, but the little Want Ad traveled across the continent and effected its mission just as rapidly as Uncle Sam's mail service could get it there.

Want Ads work wonders and in most unexpected ways.

ANNUAL meeting of the holders of the Montrose Cemetery Association will be held at the office of the secretary, 22 Ferry St., Kingston, N. Y., on the 10th day of April, 1916, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of electing two trustees and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. Dated, Kingston, N. Y., March 27, 1916. H. H. FLEMING, Secretary.

MRS. KROM UNDER BONDS.

This Finishes the Trio Gathered in by the Police.

Mrs. Louise Krom of No. 120 Broadway, was found guilty of being a disorderly person after a trial this morning before Recorder Lang, who placed her under $500 bonds for a year. In case she was unable to furnish bond for that sum the sentence was six months in the county jail. She was represented by Frank W. Brooks at the trial, while Chris J. Flanagan appeared for the corporation counsel, who is out of town.

The conviction of Mrs. Krom followed that of her daughter, Margaret Krom, who was sentenced to three months in jail, and Mrs. Irma Jones, who was sent to Bedford Reformatory. The three women were arrested last week by the police under the direction of Chief Wood, who had worked up the case against them.

The evidence at all three trials, the women electing to be tried separately, was given by a number of young men from the lower section of the city, who had visited the premises and told of what occurred.

According to the police the premises have long been an eye sore and conditions became so intolerable that it was decided to clean up.

The evidence presented at the trial by the young men was of an unprintable nature and if true the police deserve great credit for raiding the resort and bringing the women to trial.

It is said that Attorney Brooks, who represented the three women, will appeal the convictions found against the women by Recorder Lang.

CLARENCE GRIFFIN

ANOTHER STAR LOST TO SAN FRANCISCO.

San Francisco, Cal., March 28.—San Francisco is experiencing a deal of trouble retaining tennis stars who have established national reputations. First R. Lindley Murray moved to New York to make his home, and only recently Maurice McLaughlin embarked in the sporting goods business with Thomas Bundy and took up his residence in Los Angeles.

Now comes word that "Peck" Griffin, who holds the doubles championship with William Johnston, is contemplating making his home in Honolulu.

"Peck" stopped off at Honolulu to play in the mid-Pacific carnival tournament. Ward Dawson and Beals Wright, the other players from the mainland returned home a week or so ago, but Griffin stayed over. It is said that he likes the country over there and is seriously considering making it his home.

Vox Populi.

The moral standard of the people, acting somehow, is always there, whether it be high or low. At its highest, however, it does not approach the noblest motives of the individual, for it is a communal conscience, not an individual conscience. It is never more than the highest common denominator of goodness.

Different Proposition.

"But, surely, Bunkum," said the white man, "you are not afraid of that old dog? Why, he eats right out of my hand!" "Yassah! Yassah! When he eats out o' yo' hand, it's yo' hand; but when he done takes a fool notion to eat out o' muh leg, it's muh leg, sah!"—Kansas City Star.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

New York, March 28.—Trap-shooting is another one of those nice young sports that have come along during the past few years and weaned away many of the dyed-in-wool baseball fans.
The popularity of the target game has increased by leaps and bounds during the past few years. There are at least 500,000 active trapshooters in the country today; men who indulge in the sport regularly. There are almost as many more who have a fondness for busting the clays but who cannot find enough leisure to permit them to engage in more than five or six shoots per year.
Statistics recently compiled show that there are in the United States at the present time approximately 2,000 registered clubs. The total outlay by these club houses, grounds, automatic traps and other devices is far beyond the $3,000,000 mark.
Investment Totals $38,000,000.
The average expenditure for guns, gun cases, glasses, cleaning rods, shooting jackets and other trap clothing is about $50 per man, which means that the trapshooters of the country have laid out approximately $35,000,000 for their equipment. This added to the $3,000,000 for club houses, etc., shows that $38,000,000 is invested in the sport.
About 60,000,000 were fired during the 1915 season. Each cost an average of 5 cents. That means that trapshooters spend $3,000,000 annually for ammunition. Add to this the sums paid out for railroad fare, bus hire, hotel bills, etc.—approximately $12,000,000—and you find that the lovers of the clay busting game spend $15,000,000 yearly in following their sport.
There will be 412 shooting tournaments during the season, beginning in April and every community of any size will stage one or another of the shoots.
Sport Appeals to All.
The beauty of the trap shooting sport is that it appeals to women as well as men; that it is a game for the very old and very young, as well as the middle-aged. It is not a game that calls for strenuous exercise; it doesn't tire the muscles. It's one that develops the keenness of the eye, speeds up the brain and aids health generally because it brings its devotee out into the open.
Probably the oldest trapshooter in the country is "Uncle Joe" Heinmann, of Wausau, Wis. He's 91—and he never misses a shoot in his particular section. "Uncle Joe" hangs the targets with astonishing regularity and his hitting average is far beyond that of the bulk of the ordinary shooters who are only one- or one-third as old as "Uncle Joe."
There are on the lists of registered trapshooters scores of men around the 80 year mark. Thousands of them are still in their teens. One of the real clever shooters is a 12 year old youth who seems to have inherited the skill from his father who always ranked high in the tournaments.

Increased Year by Year.

The number of women who are finding great pleasure in the great outdoor sport is increasing steadily. A few years ago there were only a scattering few. Today the feminine shooters total well along into the thousands. Many of them compete with the male persons in the various shoots and the averages turned in by the fair sex is surprisingly high.
Statistics covering the sport show that the number of enthusiasts has increased every year during the past fifteen years. Never once has it slowed up. There were only a scattered few tournaments back in 1901 to 1905. In 1913, however, the shoots numbered 286, in 1914 they jumped to 314 and last year 333 tournaments were staged. The number this year is nearly 100 beyond that of 1915.
"And the game is just hitting its stride," the trapshooters say. "The public is just awakening to the pleasure that one gets in following the sport. When it fully realizes all the advantages of the game, their trapshooting army will number into the millions."

Bowling an up-hill battle throughout the last match of the ten game series with Wood's team. Webster's team won out last night by 14 pins in one of the most closely contested matches yet staged on the Y. M. C. A. alleys. The official score had Wood's score 3,349, making a slight miscalculation in the captain's score, which should be 719 instead of 679. The press agent of the two teams in glancing over the night's tallies spied the error and thereby boosted the losers' count by 40 points, not quite enough to win out. If Wood's clan did succeed in nosing ahead in this last match another would have to be staged to determine who shall provide the eats when the banquet comes around. Most of the bowling dopsters thought that Wood's team would come to the surface in this encounter but although they missed by a slight score they fought for all they were worth.

Captain Wood's men showed that they were on deck for duty. They started off with a two point lead over their opponents in the first game and in the second they strengthened it by 36 more, at the same time netting the big score of 225 pins. But in the two following games they were on the decline and Webster's men nosed them out in the third by 18 pins. Everybody was on his toes when the last match was announced by the crier. Wood's team spurred but their antagonists more so, with the result that what appeared to be Wood's game turned out in favor of Webster's five, the latter garnering a pinning advantage of 73 pins in the last game, thereby winning the match.
Both teams were a little below their usual high standard. Giles, of the losers, tucked away the honors of the evening with an average of 185 and a high individual game of 213 pins. "Col." Payne, of the winners, got in the best work for his team with an average of 176. Thompson bowling the highest single game with a score of 194 pins. One of Captain Webster's prodigy was his own son, Freddie, who shot the balls down the greased floor just like an experienced participant in the indoor sport. The score:

Value of Collective Opinion.
Whenever we stand in need of intricate knowledge, balanced judgment or delicate analysis, it is our comfortable habit to question our neighbors. For another, it seldom lacks variety.—Agnes Repplier, in the Atlantic.
